Wildwood Cemetery thefts raise ire

RESIDENTS STIRRED TO ACTION

By LARZ F. NEILSON
Editor Emeritus
Larz@YourTownCrier.com

WILMINGTON - May is a beautiful month in the Wildwood Cemetery. The grass is once again a carpet of green and trees are putting out their new leaves. Memorial Day brings flowers, especially geraniums, decorating many of the graves. Wilmington always has a very impressive Memorial Day parade, followed by memorial observances at the Veterans' Lot in the front part of the cemetery.

It is a solemn time, as people pay their respects to and remember people buried there. Memorial Day was conceived as a time to commemorate soldiers killed in war. It has come to be a time for families to remember loved ones who have died.

Once a loved one has gone to Wildwood, what can you do for them? You can say a prayer, visit the grave, maybe pull a couple of weeds, clean up the headstones, and leave some flowers. Some folks leave mementoes, maybe a teddy bear or an item of religious significance.

But there is something especially sad in the cemetery, and it's not just the sadness of death.

Once some flowers have been left at a grave, it is quite likely that will be gone by the next day.

This is quite upsetting, for it is not just a theft of a few flowers. The flowers are meant as tokens of love, and to have someone steal them is heart-breaking.

This is not a new phenomenon, nor is it strictly local. But in Wilmington, the theft has been going on for decades. Even for those with loved ones in the cemetery, the thefts represent a loss of trust. You can't lock up a floral arrangement on a

Jayne@YourTownCrier.com

SAUGUS/WILMINGTON - The Massachusetts State Police announced Friday that they are seeking the public's help in locating a vehicle that may have been involved in Thursday's fatal crash on Route 1 in Saugus before fleeing the scene.

"We are looking for a silver or gray Honda CRV sport utility vehicle, specifically, an older model with a spare tire compartment attached to the rear hatch door. This vehicle may not necessarily have any damage," said State Police in a statement. "Immediately following the crash, this vehicle may have entered the Taco Bell parking lot adjacent to the crash scene, before re-entering the

WILMINGTON - There are more than 4,000 elders over the age of 60 in the town of Wilmington and Terri Marciello is responsible for this segment of the community in any aspect of aging. The Elderly Service's functions fall under two categories. The first is the senior center, which runs social programs such as exercise, dance and

art. "We have a pool table and a ceramics class, yoga and a variety of programs to engage people," said Marciello.

The purpose of the senior center is to bring people together with their peers, to educate them and give them a place of their own to feel comfortable.

Equipment failures leave trash on the curb

WILMINGTON - Delayed trash collection recently has homeowners frustrated and town officials considering emergency collection services, explained a statement to the press from Town Manager Jeff Hull's office Wednesday.

"The Town of Wilmington is presently experiencing delays with the curbside trash collection. The issues are resulting in an a half-day delay in collection, meaning approximately half of the daily route is being collected the day after the normally scheduled collection date.

"In the past week, the Town's trash hauler, Northside Carting, has been working extra hours in an attempt to get caught up. Northside is reporting equipment failures as the primary cause of delays.

The Town Manager advises residents to continue putting their trash curbside on their regularly scheduled collection day.

In the event that the trash is not picked up on the scheduled day, and is in containers with secure lids, residents are encouraged to leave it curbside until collected.

If the trash is not in secure containers, residents are asked to bring it back in to prevent animals from getting into the trash bags overnight. It can be put back out the following morning.

The Department of Public Works is in daily contact with Northside regarding the delays and reports all complaints of missed pick-ups to them. The Town Manager is reviewing their contract relative to performance requirements. Additionally the Town is investigating options for emergency collection services if needed.

Wilmington is unfortunately in a similar situation as other communities utilizing Northside as their municipal trash hauler. Northside's contract with the Town ends June 30th. FW Russell will be taking over the Town's curbside waste collection service on July 1.

Harnden helped capture Confederate President

By LARZ F. NEILSON

At the close of the Civil War in April 1865, Confederate President Jefferson Davis fled south through the Carolinas and into Georgia. On May 2, believing that Davis was complicit in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln the U.S. posted a $100,000 reward for his capture. The First Wisconsin Cavalry, led by Wilmington native Lt. Col. Henry Harnden left Macon Georgia on May 6, seeking Davis.

Three days later, near Abbeville, Georgia, they learned that a party with wagons had passed through, headed for Irwinsville. Then they saw four Union soldiers of the Fourth Michigan Cavalry, commanded by Lt. Col. Benjamin Pritchard.

Harnden asked Pritchard if there was any news of Davis. Pritchard had none. Pritchard had left Macon 24 hours after Harnden, ordered to patrol the river crossings.

Harnden gave Pritchard all the information he had. He been on the track of Davis for three days, and was proceeding on toward Irwinsville. He laid claim of first right to the road, which Pritchard acknowledged.

Harnden pushed on and rejoined his company. They soon arrived at a place where the Davis party had lunched. Campfires were still burning.

Harnden did not want to approach Davis' encampment in the dark, lest Davis escape in the shadows. The Wisconsin troops set camp about 9 p.m. and were in the saddle again by 3 a.m. An advance guard was to keep a sharp lookout for the enemy.

Pritchard set off from the meet-up at 4 p.m. on May 9 with 128 men and seven officers, moving down the river. They then took a wooded road, reaching Irwinsville about 1 a.m.

They learned that a party had camped about a mile and a half out of town. They then moved within a half-mile of the camp. Pritchard sent 25 men under Lt. Purinton to make a circuit of the camp and take a position at its rear, and thus cut off all possibility of escape.

After waiting about an hour, they moved in on the camp, and proceeded to within 80-100 feet undetected. They took the camp in an instant.

"The surprise was so complete . . . that none of the enemy were able to make the slightest defense, or even arouse from their slumbers in time to grasp their weapons," Pritchard later wrote.

Before they could find Davis, a new scene opened when firing commenced about a quarter mile to the rear of the camp and across a narrow swamp. Pritchard immediately ordered all his forces to the scene of the firing, leaving guards on the camp and prisoners.

Pritchard set a line of skirmishers but then recognized the sound of the gunfire, from Spencer carbines, a Union weapon. He called out to his opponents, asking who they were. "First Wisconsin," came the reply.

The skirmish cost the lives of two Michigan soldiers, and severely wounded several others.

Pritchard later charged that the Wisconsin first sergeant had failed to respond to a challenge from the Michigan lieutenant.

Sgt. Hussey directly challenged Pritchard's assertion. He wrote that his advance party was following a faint trail in pine woods when out of the darkness came a challenge, "Halt, who comes there?"

Hussey replied, "Friends." Then came the order, "Dismount and come forward and let yourself be known."

Hussey wrote that he could see the forms of men about 20-30 yards away. Seeing there was a large number of them, he told his men to retreat. As they turned their horses about, Hussey yelled, "Go to hell!" At this point, the Michigan troops fired a volley, wounding three of Hussey's men.

Hussey soon met Col. Harnden, coming up on a gallop at the head of a squad of men. Hussey told Harnden they had run into pickets and that some of his men were killed or wounded.

"Get out of the way and let us get at them!" said Harnden.

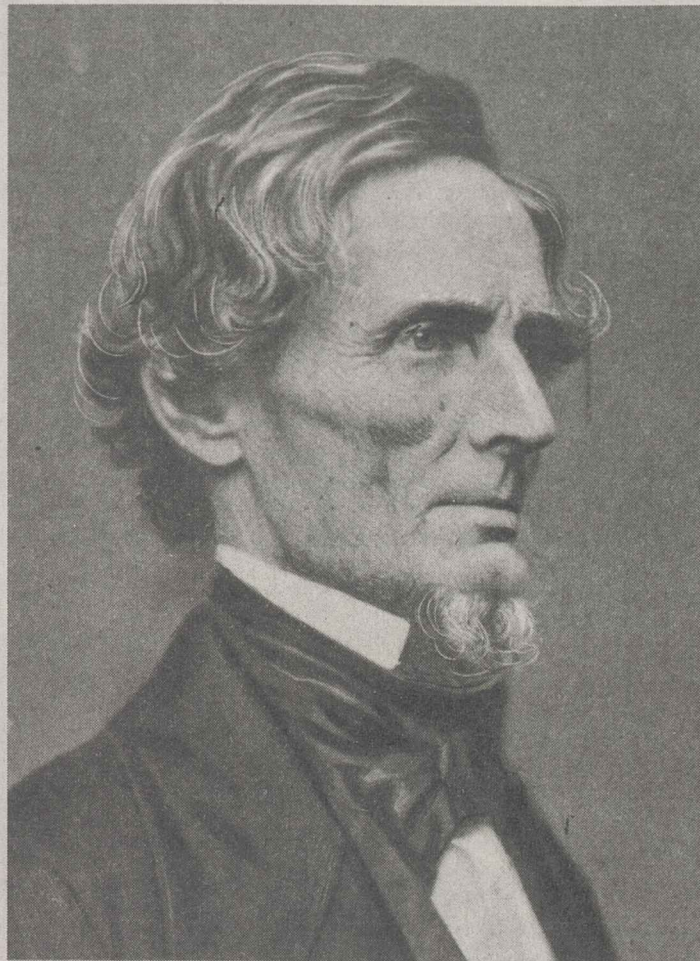

Col. Harnden advanced and drove the opposing troops into a swamp, capturing one man. From him, they learned that their opponents were from the Fourth Michigan Cavalry.

Harnden rode forward, only to meet Pritchard, who said some of his men had just taken possession of the camp, only about 50 yards away. He did not know who had been captured, as he had not been to the camp himself.

Interestingly, the Confederates captured in the camp figured out that the Union troops were firing at each other. Col. William Preston Johnson, CSA, in an 1877 letter to Maj. W. T. Walthall, wrote:

" . . . the firing continuing. I met a Union officer. Feeling that the cause was lost, and not wishing useless bloodshed, I said to him, 'Captain, your men are fighting each other over yonder.' He answered very positively, 'You have an armed escort.' I replied, 'You have our whole camp. I know your men are fighting each other. We have nobody on that side of the slough.' He then rode off. Colonel Lubbock (CSA) had a conversation nearly identical with Colonel Pritchard, who was not very polite, I believe."

Wisconsin Sgt. Maj. W.O. Hargrave said that in talking with men of the Fourth Michigan immediately after the capture, he charged them with firing on the Wisconsin troops, knowing that they were not Jeff. Davis' men. They admitted that they thought they were firing on the Wisconsin men, but they had to obey orders. And those orders were to allow no one to approach from that direction.

When the skirmish broke out, Davis had been asleep in his wife's tent. Awakened by the firing, he emerged, fully dressed, then reached for a waterproof garment to put over his shoulders. In the dim light, he grabbed a raglan belonging to his wife, who then put a shawl over his head. He then took a pail and headed for the spring, stooped over, accompanied by a maid.

A Michigan corporal saw them and asked Mrs. Davis what the two women were doing. She replied that her mother was going for water. But then the corporal noticed boots and spurs. He rode over and leveled his carbine at Davis, who moved as if to unseat the corporal. Just then, Varina Davis reached them and threw her arms around her husband's neck, imploring, "Don't shoot!" "God's will be done," Davis muttered.

Pritchard and Harnden rode into the camp together and were met by John H. Reagan, the postmaster-general of the Confederacy. "Well, you have taken the old gentleman at last," Reagan said to Harnden.

"Who do you mean?" Harnden asked. "I mean President Davis," said Reagan. "Please point him out," said Harnden. Reagan pointed to Davis.

Harnden and Pritchard rode up to him, and Harnden asked if he were Mr. Davis. "Yes, he replied. 'I am President Davis.' Harnden spoke with him, but would not call him Mr. President, which seemed to annoy him, and he spoke of 'your government' with the greatest contempt.

He blamed his wife for his capture. "After making allowances for the humiliating position in which Davis found himself placed at that time, I came to the conclusion that he was a greatly overrated man," wrote Harnden. "His manner and all that he said, his blaming his wife and other circumstances, all went to show that he had no real nobility about him."

The soldiers, meanwhile, began plundering the personal belongings in the wagons, looking for the gold of the Confederate treasury. However, the treasury had proceeded along another route and had been dispersed.

In one of the wagons, the soldiers found a cask of brandy. Soon the soldiers came running with cups and canteens. Harnden mentioned the situation to Pritchard, who unsuccessfully tried to stop it.

The soldiers searched the Davis' trunks, throwing clothing and papers on the ground. In the midst of the plundering, came a piercing shriek of agony. In his haste to pry open a locked trunk with a loaded musket, an unfortunate Yankee soldier had shot off his own hand.

Out of this trunk later was procured a hooped skirt. This skirt was to figure in absurd derision that Davis was wearing it as a disguise when captured. Some publications ran cartoons of Davis attempting to escape wearing women's clothes.

After resting for a short time, they began the march to Macon. Along the way, a courier arrived with handbills offering the $100,000 reward for Davis.

Davis was taken to Virginia where he was confined in chains for two years. Eventually, he was released on bail. No charges were ever brought against him.

Pritchard accompanied Davis to Washington, where he told his version of the capture. He was immediately promoted to Brig. General. The reward for the capture was initially awarded to Pritchard and the Fourth Michigan.

Harnden wrote a report of the incident on May 13 and sent it to Army headquarters in Washington, but it was never received. On July 19, 1865, as he was mustered out, he was breveted to the rank of brigadier general.

Only after it was clear that Davis would not be executed did Harnden initiate a claim to some of the reward.

A Congressional committee later reported that General Wilson, Colonel Pritchard, Col. Harnden and Captain Yeoman should receive $3,000 each, and that the balance should be divided among those who were actually present and took part in the capture, according to rank and pay. The members of each regiment were treated alike. Harnden was exonerated from all blame for the collision. When the bill came before the house, every Republican, except the five members from Michigan, voted for it.

The $500,000 reward which Gen. Wilson had offered never materialized, as the Confederate treasury was never captured.

Harnden returned to Wisconsin where he was elected to the state legislature. In 1899, he was elected commander of the Grand Army for Wisconsin, a Civil War veterans' group.

The incident remained with the men for the rest of their lives. As time went on, Harnden became more convinced that Pritchard had gone on an end-run to reach Davis first, and then deliberately had his men open fire on the First Wisconsin troops.

THIS YEAR'S MILEAGE NUMBERS

The Internal Revenue Service has come up with the mileage deductions for 2015; some went up, some went down, some remained the same.

Business driving deductions went up from 56 cents to 57.5 cents per mile to cover the added costs of depreciation, insurance and repairs. Employees who use their vehicles on business trips will not be taxed when reimbursed at that rate. The mileage rate for medical or moving expenses, on the other hand, went down half a cent to 23 cents per mile, because the cost of gasoline went down. But the rate for driving for charitable purposes remains at 14 cents a mile because that is set by Congress, not the IRS.

The cost of parking and tolls can be deducted, too. In order to claim the deduction, you must keep records to document the mileage and the purpose of the trip; keep receipts for parking and tolls, too. If, instead of flat mileage rates, you choose to deduct actual costs, you'll need even more records and receipts to substantiate driving-related expenses like gas, oil, insurance and more.

At the end of last year, Congress increased the cap on employer-paid mass transit passes and van pools for 2014 to $250 from $130; some tax changes will follow.

DiFava to hit the stage for the Rock Opera "The Devil and Billy Shake"

Rachele DiFava, 15, of Wilmington, will play a Demonette on the Lynn Auditorium Stage for the Original Rock Opera, "The Devil and Billy Shake" on Friday, June 5th.

DiFava has been taking vocal coaching, music theory, songwriting, piano and guitar lessons from Brian Maes for many years. So, it was only natural that Maes, one of the co-writers of the rock opera, The Devil and Billy Shake to ask DiFava to take on the supporting role of a Demonette when a previous cast member couldn't continue. It requires a hefty time commitment as the production transforms on its march to Broadway.

The musical is a tale of good vs. evil, using a collection of original rock songs to tell the story. The production has been staged a few times, and George Simpson and Brian Maes, the writers, have had a meeting with Broadway backers to get feedback in order to make it more "Broadway ready." A previous version of the production was staged at Whippersnappers in New Hampshire, where DiFava made her debut.

DiFava explains, "Watching it progress from its debut shows, I'd always wanted to have some form of involvement." Before I was in the cast, I achieved this through helping out, like ushering at the one at Capone's in Peabody, as well as just listening to Brian as he told me of Billy's progress.

"I was extremely excited when Brian had asked me to be a part of the show! In all seriousness, I was secretly hoping that if there were ever an opportunity to join the cast, I would be the first picked."

Two pieces of feedback from past productions is the audience needed more Princess Shrill, the lead female character, and more Demonettes, one of which DiFava plays. More Princess Shrill and more Demonettes will be on display for the Friday, June 5th, big stage performance at the Lynn Auditorium.

She will have new songs and a new plot twist where the audience will get a glimpse of her younger self. Princess Shrill is the head of the Demonettes, which includes DiFava, who cater to the devil, Dr. Spark, but the previous productions demanded more of Princess Shrill's and the Demonette's backstory: How did they get to this place? Can they be saved? Have they ever experienced love? How did the Demonettes get together?

DiFava has her work cut out for her with new songs, new staging, and the added storyline, but she says her training has prepared her and said, "For me, the hardest thing about the Rock Opera has been the challenge of doing things with music that I've never had to do before. Now, as opposed to just singing the songs I love, I have to help convey the message of this amazing story."

The event will take place on Friday, June 5th, 2015 with Doors opening at 7:00 PM at the Lynn Auditorium, 3 City Hall Square Lynn, MA. Call 781-599 (SHOW) 7469 or visit <http://lynnauditorium.com/>

Regarding School Committee

Tuesday night at the Tewksbury Selectmen and School Committee Joint Meeting I was appointed to finish the unexpired term for member Lisa Puccia, who stepped down last month following a breach of student information.

I'm honored and humbled by the support I received at that meeting, not only among the members of the Board of Selectmen, but also by friends and family who attended the meeting and reached out to me afterwards.

Those kinds of meetings are pretty tough on everyone - the board members, the applicants, and those that watch the proceedings closely. The best part is that so many outstanding candidates came forward. Offering expertise in a variety of fields, from law to business to engineering, and with a clear dedication to community, the Town of Tewksbury is fortunate to have so many strong people willing to step up to the plate. When April comes around, I hope to see lots of these faces running for election.

Many have asked how I'll handle my role as News Editor here at the Town Crier and my role on School Committee. I did it for seven months previously, approaching the end of my term from 2011 - 2012. Our team of talented correspondents covers public meetings and that will continue. Particularly with regard to School Committee, correspondents will report on the issues that come before the board and submit those articles to Managing Editor Stu Neilson. I will not advise on or edit any stories re: School Committee, leaving that up to Mr. Neilson.

I will be bringing back my office hours, which I will hold in a conference room at the Center School. It's a great way to be available to residents, answer questions, and listen to their concerns. I hope to see lots of folks on Saturday morning and I'll bring the coffee.

Letters to the editor

Thank you

Thank you to the firefighters and police officers who helped me Tuesday evening last week.

You are truly

Food for Thought

We all scream

You know how the internet is full of lists? We've all seen ten things not to eat to lose weight, twenty five safe cities to live in, and the top five companies to invest in. The lists are endless but somehow I always find myself reading them. The other day I was reading one about the ten best things to eat to be healthy. Things like kale and eggs (again with the eggs), wild caught salmon made the list, so did fresh berries. I was delighted to see dark chocolate and ice cream. Did I just say ice cream? You bet your sweet bippy I did!

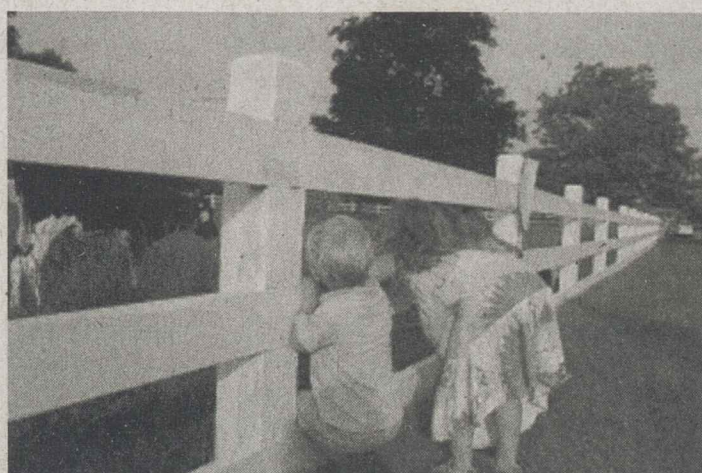

It seems whole milk; organic ice cream with natural flavors is not only good for your bones and teeth but it also has a calming comforting sensation that satisfies your sweet tooth and quenches those cravings. In other words a little may be good for your body and soul. I told you I was on to something with this soul searching thing.

So where to get this enlightening dessert is the next logical question. It seems that all of us have our own personal favorite stand with "the best" ice cream. Whether it's a trip down memory lane or beach stand you just stumbled across or the little Mom and Pop place in your neighborhood, everybody has their ice-cream place!

I did some extensive research and learned some very interesting things about the frozen treat we all scream for. In fact, there is a local dairy that has been in operation for just over three hundred years, that's right three hundred, continuously with-out ever shutting down.

It is recorded that an English farmer arrived in Charlestown, MA in 1636. He pastured cows and grew crops in the City of Woburn and as his family grew so did his herd. In 1695 he moved his operation to Salem Village in the area now known as Middleton. From that day forward Dave Richardson's Farm has been producing quality goods unrivaled in the area.

In 1900 the farm focused more on dairy and less on agriculture, under the direction of Ben and Hazen Richardson. In 1917 they devised a bottling and distribution system and hired a team of "milkmen". By 1934 their herd had reached over one thousand cows. In 1952 they opened an ice cream stand with fifty flavors, a remarkable feat for the times. In 1978 they opened their wholesale division, supplying premium ice cream to stands all over New England.

Today Richardson's Dairy farm is run by eighth and ninth generation family members. Not only do they have an admirable dairy business but the property includes two mini-golf courses, batting cages, a livestock area complete with chickens, sheep and of course cows, a driving range and last but not least my favorite ice cream stand, with super premium, made on premise, good, old fashioned ice cream. You can choose from a plethora of flavors in the hard or soft serve variety as well as a line of frozen yogurts and no-sugar-added products.

Richardson's Dairy is located at 156 South Main St. (rt. 114) Middleton MA, check them out at richardsonsdairycream.com.

Justice for all

by Scott Mullowney

The Boston Marathon bomber has been sentenced to death. While that decision won't bring back the innocent victims who were murdered during the heinous attack, the jurors decision seemed inevitable.

The terrorist actions of two brothers changed our world. Instead of blowing the city of Boston apart, the bombings at the marathon finish line brought a tight-knit community even closer together. Average citizens became heroes as they rose to the challenges placed before them. And the heroes are too numerous to mention.

My son was working at the finish line on the day of the bombing. Covering the marathon was one of his first assignments at WMUR as a television news van operator. "I'm working at the finish line of the Boston Marathon," he called to tell me with excitement in his voice. "This assignment is gold!"

A couple of hours later, the golden moment quickly turned blood red when breaking news interrupted the chatter on my television. The news reporter at the anchor desk was visibly flustered. "An explosion has rocked the finish line at the Boston Marathon. Multiple injuries have been reported. Lives and limbs lost. No further details at this time."

My wife and I were spring cleaning our home at the time. The television had been background noise up to that point. Suddenly it became our focus.

We began calling my son's cell phone hoping he would answer; we just wanted to hear his voice. We left frantic messages. "Call us please." He finally did. Thank God he was unhurt.

"I was right there, Dad. About a block and a half away. I heard the explosions. It was bad," he said. Always a master of the understatement. It was bad. So bad my son will never forget how close he was to the tragedy. It still affects him to this day.

As the news reports were updated, the horror unfolded. Severe injuries and multiple traumas. Lives and limbs lost. The story was unbelievable but it was all too real.

I had to watch the events of the week unfold through the filter of the local news channels because I was out of state. Any thoughts of a relaxing vacation ended when the two bombs exploded at the marathon finish line. I was just happy my son was alive.

Today, I was not surprised by the announcement of the death sentence for the marathon bomber. Whether or not you believe in the death penalty, in this particular case, the decision felt right. Justice can't bring back the victims who died, and adding another death to the body count seems superfluous at this point. But this chapter of the story needs to end so the survivors can move on with their lives. For someone who chose to bring death and destruction to so many innocent people in such a tragic manner, life in prison - or any life at all - seems far too kind.

This Memorial Day, take a moment to remember all the victims of the marathon bombings. Keep memories of them alive. They gave their lives so the rest of us will remember what it means to be free.

'Fill a bag' event a success

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the C.D. Panasuk Friendly Little Bookshop at the Tewksbury Public Library, I'd like to thank everyone who visited our "Fill a Bag" sale on Saturday, May 16th. We hope you enjoyed stocking up on Summer reading materials at bargain prices and will shop with us again.

The Library Bookshop is a collaboration between the Friends of the TPL, volunteers and generous book donations from the community. During the summer months, June, July, and August, the Bookshop will be open Wednesdays from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m. We accept donations of gently used books, CDs, and DVDs. Items may be left inside the Library, on the carts provided, during regular Library hours. Monies raised are used to fund various Library programs including lectures, movie nights and museum passes.

Thank you

Michele Hoven, Bookshop Manager & Volunteer Coordinator

US EPA Progress Update-

Sutton Brook Disposal Area Superfund Site

Saturday truck deliveries possible

TEWKSBURY/BOSTON - Construction activities are going full speed with lots of progress being made, says EPA Project Manager for the Sutton Brook Superfund Site, Don McElroy in a statement to the public this week. Going forward, the Site will be active and regular deliveries of materials, supplies or equipment will continue. Large volume soil deliveries have been ongoing and are expected to continue through the fall of 2015. Landfill capping has been ongoing Monday-Saturday each week. To keep up with the supply needs of the project, soil trucking deliveries on Saturdays are being considered. If Saturday soil deliveries are in fact planned to start, an additional web update announcement will occur.

Progress updates will be posted at the following web-sites:

State Senate Adopts Repeal of Rainy Day Surcharge on Drivers

Tarr amendment stops insurance charges for failure to use headlights in rain

Boston- Massachusetts Senate took action Tuesday to repeal the new state law that triggers an insurance surcharge for motorists cited under the new headlights and wipers law.

An amendment to the state budget offered by Senate Minority Leader Bruce Tarr (R-Gloucester) will eliminate the multi-year auto insurance surcharge included in a new law designed to enhance safety by requiring drivers to use headlights whenever they turn their windshield wipers on.

"We are not adding to public safety by penalizing drivers with an onerous insurance bill," said Senate Minority Leader Bruce Tarr (R-Gloucester). "The Senate unanimously adopted my amendment and I am glad that the motoring public knows that the Senate is on their side."

The law went into effect Tuesday, April 7 after a quiet approval by the Legislature in December. Outgoing Governor Deval Patrick signed the bill into law before he left office in January.

"The intent of this law was always to improve public safety and promote safe driving practices during harsh weather conditions. By eliminating the insurance surcharge, the original intent of the law is maintained without severely penalizing our constituents. I am pleased that the Senate was able to unanimously come together on this important issue," said Assistant Minority Leader Richard Ross (R-Wrentham).

The Senate took up the proposal as part of its budget debate on the $38 billion spending plan. The Tarr amendment was the first to be adopted of the 942 amendments filed.

"I am very pleased that the Senate voted to repeal the insurance surcharge," said Donald Humason, Minority Whip (R-Westfield). "While preserving the aim of improving public safety for everyone on the road, we were able to avoid imposing yet another unnecessary fine on residents of the Commonwealth."

The headlight and wiper law is still in effect, a ticket for a violation is set as a $5 moving violation. The Tarr amendment, if approved by Governor Baker, will remove the insurance premium requirement currently included in state law.

CALL TODAY FOR A FREE MARKET ANALYSIS!

Let's Talk About Hearing

by Loleata Wigall

Communication is still the Word

Communication is a word that is bantered around. Communication is usually expressing our thoughts and feelings. It is figuring out our feelings, finding the words and then finding the time and place to tell our loved ones what we are thinking. Communication is also listening to what our loved ones are telling us. Communication is taking the time to pay attention to our family and friends.

Watching the facial expressions and body movements of others can help us understand the feelings and thoughts of our family and friends. Paying attention can help us expedite communication.

I am in California again. A couple of days after I came home, my sister called me to tell me that Mom had had a CT scan of her head. The scan revealed bleeding in her brain. There were spots that revealed cancer someplace in the body. At her age, the prognosis is not good and she is under hospice care.

My brothers and sisters have all gathered. Communication can be difficult in a normal situation, but under duress, it can be excruciatingly painful. Taking the time to listen to what others are feeling and thinking takes time and patience.

We found out that Mom and Dad had both signed a health proxy with their lawyer. Their end of life wishes were stated in that document. Thank goodness so there is no discussion about Mom's wishes.

Thankfully, too my brothers and sisters are pretty good at communicating. We have had some great family conversations. We used to sing (even though most of us sing off key). We have had a few laughs a great time taking about our feelings and thoughts.

Communication is still the word. Taking the time to listen carefully to others is always important.

Let's Hear it!!

Wildwood thefts terrible

The theft of flowers and other memorial items from Wildwood Cemetery demonstrates a significant lack of respect and basic human dignity. It has to stop, and the town should prosecute anyone caught.

Relay For Life Awards Students Community Service Hours

WILMINGTON - Wilmington High School students receive Community Service Hours for participation in the local Relay for Life which raises funds for the American Cancer Society's fight against cancer. Julie Reuseo, ACS Community Manager, has coordinated with the school to work out details of the program. The event is Friday night June 19th at the Middle School. Reuseo reports that hours are earned in several ways. For example, raising $250 and doing two hours of volunteer work for Relay for Life gives a student seven hours community service credit. Since students must earn hours each year and National Honor Society students must earn extra, this is an important opportunity. It is not too late to become involved for this year because the credit goes against the next school year. Work is done the week of, day of, and day after the June 19th celebration. Volunteers may do anything from working at registration desks to helping with decorations to serving (and eating!) pizza. For more information or to volunteer, please contact Julie Rauseo at 781-314-2668 or at Julie.Rauseo@cancer.org

Brittney Pachucki named to Dean's List at WPI

Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) has announced that Brittney Pachucki of Tewksbury, Mass., a sophomore majoring in biomedical engineering, was named to the university's Dean's List for academic excellence for the spring 2015 semester. A total of 1,166 undergraduate students achieved the criteria required for WPI's spring 2015 Dean's List. The criteria for the WPI Dean's List differ from that of most other universities as WPI does not compute a grade point average (GPA). Instead, WPI defines the Dean's List by the amount of work completed at the A level in courses and projects.

Senator Tarr and Wilmington Town Manager Jeff Hull. Liz Harriman, who is the deputy director at the Toxics Use Reduction Institute at UMass Lowell, is a Wilmington resident. The Senator's aide on the left is also a Wilmington resident (Sira Grant, deputy legislative director). Anuj Mohar, quoted in the release, is on the left of Sen. Tarr.

ChemGenes and Analog Devices earn awards from TURA program

The Toxics Use Reduction Act (TURA) program and state legislators presented ChemGenes Corporation in Wilmington with an award in recognition of the company's environmental leadership. One of nine companies across Massachusetts being recognized as a "TURA 25th Anniversary Leader," ChemGenes Corporation has invested in new technologies to reduce toxic chemical use that has led to improved worker safety and financial savings. To make improvements, Chief Operating Officer Anuj Mohan works with his Toxics Use Reduction Planner Neil Inglis of Goldman Environmental, the state's Office of Technical Assistance (OTA) and the Toxics Use Reduction Institute (TURI) at UMass Lowell. ChemGenes has reduced the use of chloroform by more than 55 percent and hexane by more than 35 percent. These reductions combined with an investment in a new chromatography system improved the efficiency of the manufacturing process and saved $215,000 in chemical purchases, regulatory fees and disposal costs. ChemGenes also reduced solid waste by 70 to 80 percent, from generating 25,000 pounds per year to only 8,000 pounds per year over three years. With the help of a grant from TURI at UMass Lowell, ChemGenes purchased a new solvent recovery and recycling system that is expected to reduce the use of hexane and ethyl acetate by 27,000 pounds, or 70 percent annually. An employer of 25 people, ChemGenes supplies products related to DNA- and RNA-synthesis for the biotechnology industry. The awards and facility tours taking place from March through May showcase environmental accomplishments—reducing the use of toxic chemicals, reducing waste and conserving energy and water—since the Toxics Use Reduction Act was enacted into law by the Massachusetts legislature in 1989.

Also, Constant pursuit of environmental excellence earned Analog Devices, Inc. (ADI) the TURA 25th Anniversary Leadership award from the Massachusetts Toxics Use Reduction Act (TURA) Program. At a ceremony, representatives of the TURA Program and state legislators presented ADI with the award and toured the company's wafer fabrication facility in Wilmington, Mass. A manufacturer of high-performance semiconductors for signal processing applications, Analog Devices is one of only nine companies across Massachusetts being honored by the TURA Program. The awards and facility tours taking place from March through May showcase environmental accomplishments—reducing the use of toxic chemicals, reducing waste and conserving energy and water—since the Toxics Use Reduction Act was enacted into law by the Massachusetts legislature in 1989.

Jeanne L. Gamache

A full and adventurous life; 86

No. TEWKSBURY - Mrs. Jeanne Lagasse Gamache, age 86, a woman who led a full and adventurous life, died peacefully on Wednesday morning, May 13, at the Merrimack Valley Hospice House in Haverhill. Her devoted nurse and daughter-in-law, Sharon, was at her bedside when she passed after a year of struggles with declining health. She was the beloved wife of Arthur R. Gamache, with whom she had celebrated their sixty-first wedding anniversary this past September 7th, who is currently recovering from heart surgery at a local hospital.

Jeanne was born in Fall River, MA, on November 26, 1928, one of three daughters of the late Antonio and Eulalie (Dusault) Lagasse. She was raised in Fall River, lived throughout the East Coast and New York during her marriage, and settled in Tewksbury, Massachusetts in 1982.

Her early career was with the U.S. Government as a secretary to "Operation Deep Freeze", one of the earliest South Pole and Antarctic exploration and scientific expeditions. The team's exploits and history are documented in the book "Antarctica, Firsthand Accounts of Exploration and Endurance". She remained active as a supporter of her son's Boy Scout career, and developed a love for the fine arts. Along with being an accomplished artist in Oil, Acrylic, and Water Colors, she pursued a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in Art History from the University of Massachusetts, Lowell, at the "still youthful" age of seventy. She was a member of several garden clubs during her life, and traveled throughout the Eastern seaboard to attend art shows and visit art museums. Mrs. Gamache and her husband were devout members of St. Robert Bellarmine Church in Andover.

She leaves her son and daughter-in-law, David and Sharon (Campbell) Gamache of Hillsborough, NH; two beloved grandsons, Joshua and Kyle; a sister, Olivette "Ollie" Booth of Ft. Myers, FL; a sister-in-law, Sr. Cecile Gamache, pm, in residence at the Presentation of Mary Convent in Manchester, NH; and was predeceased by her sister, Lorraine "Lori" Lagasse.

Visiting hours Wednesday, May 20, from 4:00 until 7:00 p.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home, corner of 1 Dewey and 975 Main Sts. (Rte. 38) Tewksbury Center, Ph. (800 in MA or 978) 851 2950. Her funeral will begin Thursday, May 21, at 9:45 a.m. from the funeral home, followed by a Funeral Mass at 11:00 a.m. in St. Robert Bellarmine Church, 198 Haggert's Pond Rd., Andover. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorials to the Merrimack Valley Hospice House, 360 North Avenue, Haverhill, MA 01830, are encouraged.

Brian "Snucker" Smith

Dracut roofer, formerly of Tewksbury; 58

DRACUT - Mr. Brian "Snucker" Smith, age 58, a well known and popular former Tewksbury resident, died at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, on Wednesday night, May 13, from tragic injuries suffered in an accident at his Dracut home earlier in the day. He was the beloved husband and childhood sweetheart of Janice (Bagnulo) Smith, with whom he would have celebrated a thirty-fifth wedding anniversary on Saturday, May 16th.

Brian was born in Lowell, March 30, 1957, one of four children of the late Thomas and Alice (Chandler) Smith, and was raised in Tewksbury Center. He was a member of Tewksbury Memorial High School's Class of 1975, and will be remembered for his excellence in youth sports, especially baseball.

Brian worked as a roofer throughout the Greater Lowell and Southern New Hampshire area.

Besides his wife, he leaves two children, Nicole A. Smith and Brian R. Smith, both of Dracut; his beloved granddaughter, Ayla Marie; his brother Thomas Smith and his spouse, Anne Cliff of Andover; two sisters, Mary-Anne Cliff and her husband William and Susan Zottoli and her husband Frank all of Tewksbury; his mother-in-law and father-in-law, Nora and Robert Bagnulo of Tewksbury; many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Visitation will be held Monday, May 18, from 4:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home, corner of 1 Dewey and 975 Main Sts. (Rte. 38) Tewksbury Center, Ph. (800 in MA or 978) 851 2950. His funeral will begin Tuesday at 9:00 from the Funeral Home, followed by a Funeral Mass at 10:00 a.m. in St. William's Church, 1351 Main St. (Rte. 38) Tewksbury. Following cremation, Brian will join his parents at St. Patrick's Cemetery in Lowell. In lieu of flowers, memorials to the Greater New England M S Society, 101A First Ave., Waltham, MA 02451 or visit nationalmssocietygnc.org, are encouraged. tewksburyfuneralhome.com

John Richard Thebeau, Jr.

Talented musician; "gentle giant" employed by D & R Trucking

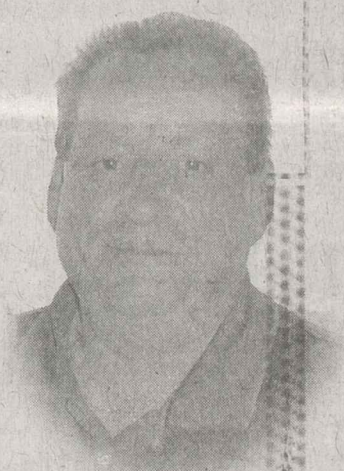

WILMINGTON - John Richard Thebeau, Jr., age 62, a life-long resident of Wilmington, a loving husband, son, brother, father, uncle, and a true friend to all he touched, died tragically and unexpectedly on May 13, 2015.

John was born in Woburn, MA on October 12, 1952; he was the cherished son of Eileen D. (Hitchcock) Thebeau and the late J. Richard Thebeau, Sr., of Wilmington. John was raised and educated in Wilmington and was a graduate of Wilmington High School Class of 1971.

John was known to have a "lot of rhythm" and a great ear for music; he was a talented musician since his teenage years and he especially liked to play the drums. John turned his talents into a career until an injury to his hand forced him to retire from playing. John continued to enjoy all kinds of music and he always shared his passion for music with his family and friends.

At the time of his death, John was employed as a truck driver for D & R Trucking Company in Wakefield. John was known to be an excellent driver, very cautious and considerate of others on the road. His pleasant disposition and friendly nature made him a favorite employee at the company.

John will be remembered as a "gentle giant;" a big teddy bear with an even bigger heart. His unconditional love and devotion for his family and friends was evident in everything he did. John loved to have people to his home; he had a knack for entertaining and enjoyed having everyone to his back yard better known as "Thebeau's Tavern". John also loved to go boating and being at the ocean; everyone always had a great time with John and he will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved him.

John was the beloved husband of Dolores "Dee" Penney, cherished son of Eileen (Hitchcock) Thebeau and the late J. Richard Thebeau, Sr. of Wilmington, devoted father Joseph Parsons of Chester, NH and Paige Thebeau of Wilmington, MA. Dear brother of Linda Thebeau and her partner Diana Musto of Mashpee, MA and Lisa McHale and her husband Brian of Punta Gorda, FL, uncle of Jillian and Edward Bennett of Florida. John is also survived many cousins near and far, his beloved pooches Lenny, Louie, and Lola, as well as many dear friends.

Family and friends gathered for Visiting Hours at the Nichols Funeral Home, 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington, on Sunday, May 17th from 2:00-5:00 p.m. Memorial donations in John's name may be made to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105, donors@stjude.org www.nicholsfuneralhome.com

Teacher appreciation luau

TEWKSBURY - Every year, the Dewing Parent Advisory Council (PAC) hosts a luncheon to thank the Dewing Elementary School staff for all that they do. This year, approximately 100 teachers, aides, specialists, staff and administrators were treated to a Luau-inspired buffet.

The school library was decorated with a tropical theme, complete with Hawaiian leis and music. Luncheon coordinator Jennifer Lentini, along with parent volunteers Sara Nelson and Lindsay Long were able to secure donations of food and raffles from community restaurants and retailers in addition to donations from parents. The luncheon's platinum sponsor was TD bank, whose generous donation which allowed many of the entrees to be catered.

It is with sincerest appreciation that the Dewing PAC extends its thanks to the following businesses for their generous contributions: TD Bank, French's, Orange Leaf, Papa Gino's, Skewer's, Café Sicilia, Pizza Mia, Salon Karma, Mac's Dairy Farm, Fresh Looks Salon, Wicked Cheesy, Salon 1475, Caprizzo Hair Design, Suite Salons, Al Fresca, TJ Callahan's, Love Magic Nails, Capellini's, Tanglez Hair Salon, J&B Butcher, Jon Ryan's Pub, Golden Nails, Goode Salon, Mahoney's, Tewksbury Florist & Greenery, The Ninety Nine, Hannaford, Aubuchon Hardware, Magic Brush Pottery, Elements Massage, Oasis Day Spa, The Mane Escape, La Bella Salon and Life Healing Spa. In addition, the Dewing PAC thanks the many parents who cooked, baked, donated raffles, and donated their time to help with set-up, serving and clean-up.

Tuskegee Airman Program at Wilmington Library

On Tuesday, May 26, 7 pm, members of the Colonel Charles E. McGee Chapter of the Tuskegee Airmen from Hanscom Air Force Base will present a program at the Wilmington Memorial Library on the history of the famed airmen.

The Tuskegee Airmen were the first black servicemen to serve as military aviators in the U.S. armed forces, flying with distinction during WWII. Their success paved the way for the integration of the U.S. military.

Tuskegee Airman, Lieutenant Colonel Enoch "Woody" Woodhouse II (Ret.), who was commissioned in 1946, will be in attendance. Lt. Col. Woodhouse has stated that African Americans started to get a sense of what they had done when stationed at Lockbourne Air Base in Ohio after the war.

Many African Americans were assigned to Lockbourne right after they came home, and what emerged was a sense of community and camaraderie. Lt. Col. Woodhouse was one of the first black graduates of Yale in the 1950s, one of the first black Judge Advocates General in the U.S. Air Force, and the first black member of the 371-year-old Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts.

Members of the Boston Chapter of the Tuskegee Airmen will also be present at the program. For more information or to register, please call the library at 978-658-2967 or visit the library website, wilmlibrary.org.

Wilmington Rotary Club's Annual Trivia Night

WILMINGTON - Think that you know the capital of Nebraska? Well, on Friday, June 12th you and three friends can show off your knowledge of things trivial. The Wilmington Rotary Club is hosting the 6th Annual Trivia Night on Friday, June 12th at the Shriners' Fez Room, 99 Fordham Road, Wilmington. Doors will open at 6:00 PM and the first question will be asked at 7:00.

What is Tom Brady's middle name? Other trivia experts think that they know! Do you? The cost for your team of four is $100. The winners will receive a handsome trophy along with priceless bragging rights for the year. The defending Champions are from the Wilmington Police Department, who have stated that despite being armed, they will surrender the trophy but only if you can best them at trivia. There will be a cash bar.

Do you know what the name of the first baseman is? The number of teams is limited, so don't delay. For more information or to enter your team, call Wilmington's Trivia Master, Harry Cunningham at 978-944-0155. The Rotary Club promises an evening of challenging questions, hopefully outstanding recall and most of all, a terrific evening. Come and test your team's knowledge!

How much money has the Wilmington Rotary Club given out in scholarships to Wilmington graduates? Proceeds from the Trivia Night are used to fund scholarships for this year's graduates.

Five Wilmington locals named recipients of Partners in Excellence Awards

Partners HealthCare presented its 19th annual Partners in Excellence Awards to employees of Partners-affiliated institutions during award ceremonies held throughout December 2014 and early 2015.

Award recipients are nominated by their colleagues and are selected on the basis of contributions "above and beyond the call of duty" in the areas of quality treatment and service, leadership and innovation, teamwork, operational efficiency, outstanding community contributions and sustainability.

Among the recipients include Wilmington residents: Mishell Fortes, Brigham and Women's Hospital Quality Treatment and Service; Claire Cronin, Massachusetts General Hospital Leadership and Innovation; Maria Doherty, Massachusetts General Hospital Operational Efficiency; John Ebert, Massachusetts General Hospital Sustainability and Virginia Amato, McLean Hospital Leadership and Innovation.

Established in 1996, the Partners in Excellence Awards recognize individuals and teams at all levels who have contributed to the success of Partners HealthCare. Among the accomplishments to which employees contributed in 2014 were the following:

Partners HealthCare's hospitals are recognized as national leaders in providing extraordinary patient care.

Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) and Brigham and Women's Hospital (BWH), the founders of Partners HealthCare, ranked among the nation's top ten hospitals on the U.S. News & World Report annual Honor Roll of America's Best Hospitals for the eighth consecutive year. MGH ranked second (2) in the nation and BWH ranked ninth (9). This achievement makes Boston the only city in the United States with two hospitals ranked among the top ten on the Honor Roll.

The waiting room and reception area, is a modern and relaxing environment comforted by a fireplace and complimentary organic teas.

What is a Thai Massage? Buddhist monks are believed to have developed Thai massage practices as a part of the healing process nearly 2,500 years back. The massage uses techniques involve passive stretches and application of pressure on the energy lines of the body. The massage can help relieving joint and muscle tension, increasing flexibility, improving blood circulation, reducing stress levels and restoring balance in the energy systems of the body. While La Moon Thai Spa is known for giving a great deep tissue Thai massage the therapists are also trained to deliver a great relaxing Swedish too. La Moon Thai Spa therapists have had years of training and will listen to your needs, evaluate the treatment options, then will deliver a premier massage.. The goal is for you to leave La Moon Thai Spa feeling like a new person.

Nikki and Grace, the owners of La Moon Thai Spa, are both passionate and dedicated to their work. Although they come from different backgrounds and have very different personalities, they both share the same passion for making people feel better. Nikki and Grace came up with the idea of opening a premier spa together while working at other spa. That work experience allowed them to consider "how to do it better." There are many Asian spas out there, many lack the ambience and cleanliness that make for a great spa experience. On the other hand, the spas that have all the elements for a great experience are often not affordable. La Moon Thai Health spa offers a premier experience at an affordable price.

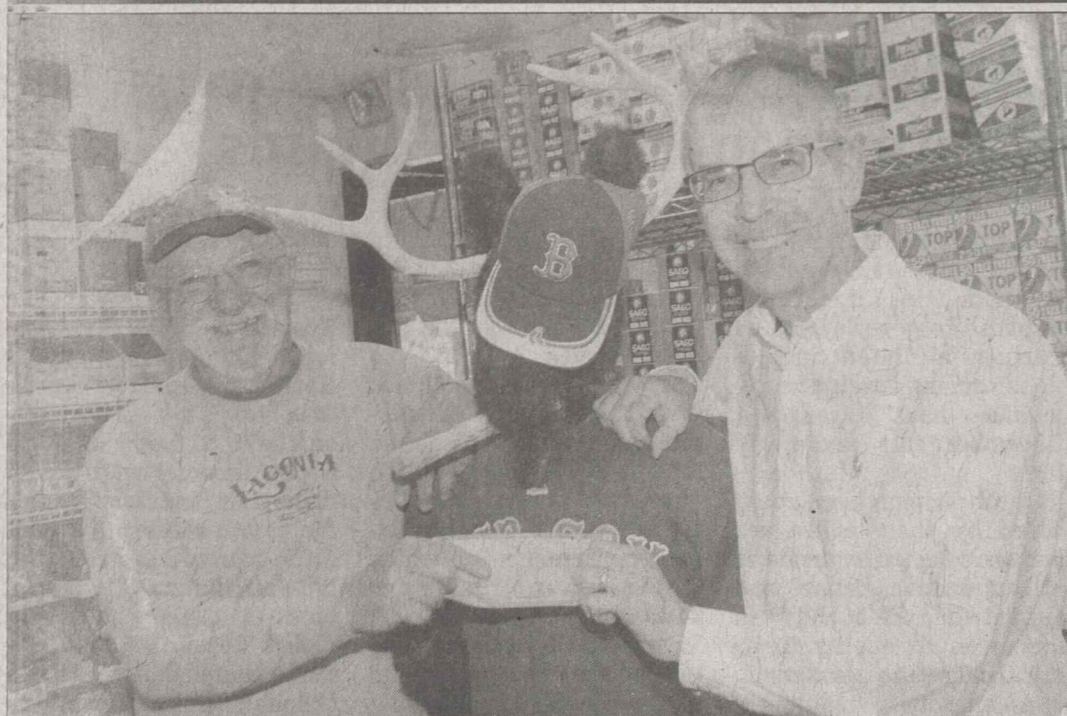

Nikki and Grace searched high and low, for the perfect location for La Moon Thai Spa. After great due diligence, they decided on the town of Wilmington. One of the main reasons why they chose Wilmington was because the community was absent a premier affordable spa service and they wanted to bring more diversity and choice for the residents of the north shore area.

La Moon Thai Spa offers a range of skincare and body treatments for both men and women. Their 1,900 square foot Thai oasis has 6 treatment rooms for massages, facials and waxing. Additionally, there is a sauna room for deep muscle relaxation before or after your treatment.

Town Clerk notification

Have you fallen off the voter list?

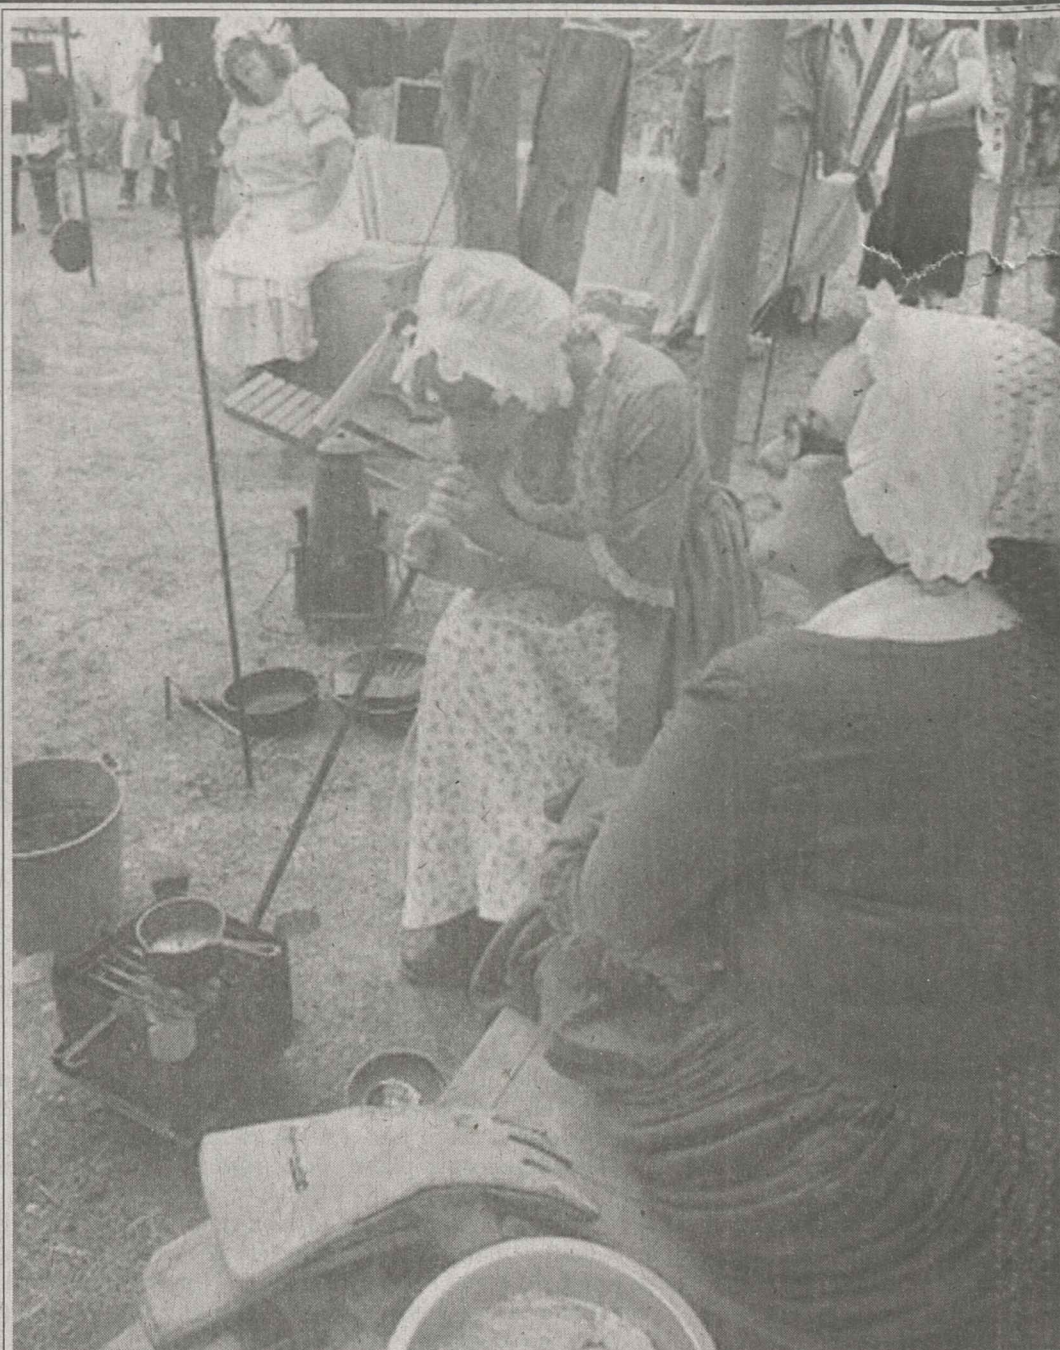

TEWKSBURY - The Town Clerk's Office will soon be mailing "Voter Confirmation" postcards to all registered voters who have either not returned their Annual Town Census form or who were noted on their census form to have moved from the Town. This mailing is required by law to give those persons another opportunity to respond or to verify and correct their current address and status. If you have not returned your 2015 Annual Town Census, please do so as soon as possible (prior to June 1st) to help the Town reduce the expense of this costly mailing.

All voters who receive this "Voter Confirmation Mailing" will have automatically been changed from an "Active" to an "Inactive" voter status. If still residing in Tewksbury, signing and returning the card will reinstate the voter to an "Active" status. If the card is not returned, when checking-in at the next election, the voter will be required to sign an "Affirmation of Continuous Residence", and identification will be required at that time. If there are changes to the voter's address, the appropriate block should be marked and the card must be signed by the voter and returned for this office to update the voter's address and status.

Confirmation postcards should be returned as soon as possible in order to update each voter to their correct status. If you have any questions, please call the Town Clerk's Office at (978) 640-4355.

www.TewksburyFuneralHome.com

The Golden Rule has always guided the owners and staff at Tewksbury Funeral Home. Caring for and guiding the family of a loved one who has passed is the most important part of our service.

A family of service minded people intent on helping the community in many ways, the Deputat family has helped charter and is a member of several civic organizations in Tewksbury.

When one visits the funeral home one is steeped in the town's history. The building was built over a century ago and has been in the family well over half that time. Lovingly restored and improved by hand by Walter Deputat, the facility is designed to accommodate large and small gatherings, all in the comfort of our up-to-date building.

We invite families to contact us in time of need or for preplanning. We are dedicated to providing the very best facilities, a full range of merchandise, and the finest funeral services at a reasonable cost.

We are committed to serving Tewksbury and the surrounding towns with compassionate services at a cost that only a family owned provider can offer.

Our goal is to not only to meet, but to exceed, our client expectations.

Summer Author Series

By KIM ROWLEY
Adult Services Librarian

Wilmington Memorial Library is pleased to announce its third annual Summer Author Series. New York Times bestselling author Nancy Thayer will kick-off the series on June 11th. Her novels include Summer Breeze, Island Girls and Nantucket Sisters all of which are set on the island of Nantucket. She will be discussing her newest novel The Guest Cottage; a delightful story about two single parents who accidentally rent the same house one summer. On Tuesday, June 30th, author Ellen Cooney will be discussing her book The Mountaintop School for Dogs and Other Second Chances. Ms. Cooney's 9th novel is a coming-of-age story about a young woman that explores the bond between humans and dogs, overcoming your past and letting go.

Bestselling author and Massachusetts Book Award Finalist Randy Susan Meyers will be speaking on Thursday, July 9th. Her novels include National Bestseller Comfort of Lies and The Murderer's Daughter. She will be discussing her latest book, Accidents of Marriage; a captivating story which explores the effects of emotional abuse on a marriage and of a Boston family overwhelmed by tragedy. Author Roland Merullo, best-known for his novels Breakfast with Buddha and In Revere in Those Days will be speaking on Monday, July 20th. He will be discussing the long awaited follow-up to Breakfast with Buddha; Dinner with Buddha, which continues with the characters on another journey of self-discovery.

On July 28th, award-winning investigative journalist and best-selling author

Michael Blanding will be discussing The Map Thief. Blanding's book details the story of E. Forbes Smiley III, an antiquarian map dealer who spent years doubling as a map thief until he was finally arrested in 2005 for tearing maps out of books at the Yale University Library. The Boston Globe's TV Critic, Matthew Gilbert will be here on Thursday, August 13th to discuss his book Off the Leash: A Year at the Dog Park. This heartwarming and funny story chronicles Matthew's experiences and transformation over a year visiting the Amory Park, overlooking Boston.

Copies of books by these authors are on display at the library and are available for checkout. All of the author events begin at 7pm with signings and book sales following the author talks. Please register online at wilmlibrary.org or call the main desk at 978-694-2099.

Four locals graduate from Fitchburg State University

Fitchburg State University recently held its 119th commencement exercises, spring graduate and undergraduate ceremonies.

Fitchburg State University President Robert V. Antonucci, a two-time graduate of the institution, delivered the address at both ceremonies and was presented the President Emeritus Award during the undergraduate program. He is retiring in June after leading Fitchburg State for 12 years. An honorary doctorate was presented to Carol T. Wilmington students attend 'Empowering Girls 2015' Conference Middlesex District Attorney Marian Ryan and Middlesex Partnerships for Youth hosted more than 250 students from 19 middle and high schools at this year's "Empowering Girls 2015" conferences held recently at Nashoba Valley Technical High School.

This year's conference focused on the theme "I'm Worth More," and addressed a variety of issues young women face each day, including, self-respect and self-worth, overcoming gender inequity, and having the confidence to assert themselves with their peers.

Girls who attended the events represented schools from across Middlesex County, including, Acton-Boxborough, Assabet Valley Technical High School, Ayer Shirley Regional, Burlington, Cambridge, Dracut, Greater Lowell Regional Vocational Technical High School, Hopkinton, Medford, Nashoba Valley Technical High School, Somerville, Valley Collaborative, Wakefield, Westford, Weston, and Wilmington.

Speakers included: the Honorable Roanne Sragow, First Justice, Cambridge District Court; Rev. Traci Jackson Antoine from the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts; Dr. Dana Gordon, a psychologist with Riverside Community Care; Jessica Teperow, Director of Prevention Programs, REACH Beyond Domestic Violence; Cambridge Police Lt. Pauline Carter Wells; Probation Officer Marie Burke; and Middlesex Assistant District Attorney Christine Maltby.

Middlesex Partnerships for Youth, Inc., (MPY) is a non-profit organization which provides prevention and intervention resources and training to school districts and communities in collaboration with the Middlesex District Attorney's Office. District Attorney Ryan chairs the MPY Board of Directors.

Through MPY's efforts, educators, parents, and students engage in collaborative trainings with law enforcement, social services, and community-based organizations as well as share the latest information and resources. Such interactions provide the foundation for creating solution-oriented, community-based, multi-disciplinary approaches to addressing issues including youth violence, substance abuse, child abuse and neglect, hate crimes, and harassment across Middlesex County.

Ten-year-old develops ring tone for church

WILMINGTON, MA - As 10 year olds, many of us were likely focused on playing sports, but Wilmington resident Collin McDade decided to also put his energies toward helping his church remain a strong and active part of the community.

Collin used his ingenuity to create a special ring tone, entitled "First Song." It is available on iTunes and the proceeds will help support the church's outreach programs. An Android version is expected to be available soon.

Wilmington's Director of Elderly Services

"We have a case manager full-time and she assists in home visits. For some, the goal is to keep them in their own homes but they may need additional services," Marciello said. "That can include referrals to visiting nurse associations, home care agencies and any type of service to compliment unmet needs in their home."

The Elderly Services Department also aids in fuel assistance and food stamps. "Anything that an elder should need, we have the capability of referring them to an appropriate service," said Marciello.

"Additional support includes assistance with health insurance applications, assisted living, referrals to appropriate counsel for elder law and estate planning or abuse and neglect issues. "It's not something people like to discuss, but we deal with those situations too and assist families in tough situations."

Marciello has served as director of the department since January, 1998. She works closely with every aspect of the town - police and fire, the recreation department and the assessor's office for issues like tax abatement for elders.

The intergenerational programs between high school students and elders inspires Marciello. The young interact with the elderly in such fun activities as painting clay pots and planting flowers for spring or gingerbread contests over the holidays. Last November, 85 students from The Rotary Interact Group completed yardwork for two dozen homes in one day.

Marciello has lived in Wilmington since 1993. The majority of her life she has worked in social services: elder protective services, children's services and adult day health. Her current job is the culmination of all her previous positions and she is never bored. "When I wake up I love going to my job," she said. "I don't know what the day will entail. It could be crisis intervention, it could be a social event or it could be learning a new aspect of a different type of activity to bring to the center. I'm meeting new people every day."

She feels Wilmington is fortunate that its forefathers were ahead of their time by creating the senior center back in 1986. "The town has been very supportive of this department and funding it. They take care of the senior center building and the staffing." Additional funding comes from the state and from grants.

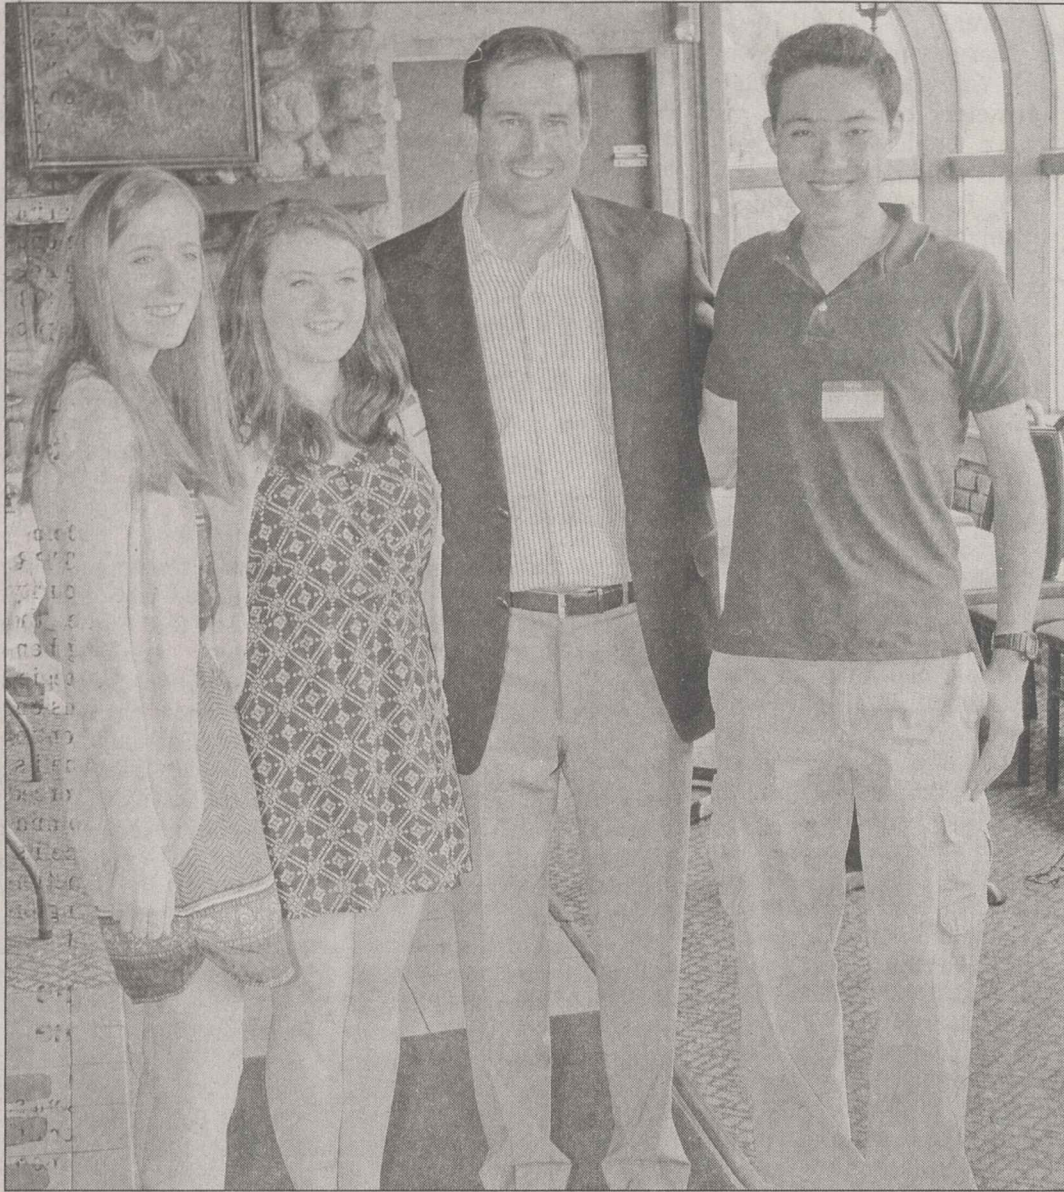

The center was previously known as The Buzzell School for grades one through four.

"September 20th we're having a reunion for Buzzell alumni!" cheered Marciello. It has evolved from the days when there were no technical abilities. "Today we have a Twitter account," Marciello said with pride. "We've come a long way."

She is grateful for her small staff: case manager Laura Pickett, senior clerk Kristen Fogarty, assistant clerk Peggy Reese and full-time van driver Bob Burke. "We provide transportation within a 13-mile radius of the town," Marciello explained. "Monday through Friday Bob is our driver."

Her staff may be small, but they are big in capabilities. "In order for us to work we have to have a sense of team. We can all rely on one another, I can't stress that enough," Marciello said. The department would not be strong without her core staff and huge support of over 85 volunteers, who will be trying a new, outside theater program this year. June 25th, there will be a kickoff "Splash into Summer" with a one-woman comedy show.

Pop Warner recognized for achievements

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 again, we are very pleased to have you all here this evening."

Reading from the letter, O'Connell said, "Once again you are National Champions and you competed against 11 teams from all over the United States in your Division 3 Section at Disney World on December 9, 2014. You are awarded the National Championship as well as the Grand National Championship title."

This team was also awarded the Grand National Championship of all teams of all ages who competed at the National Championship which means that our C team of 9, 10 and 11 year olds beat all ages through 15. This is an enormous accomplishment and honor."

We are very lucky that Wilmington has had 10 National Cheerleading Championships over the years, but have never won this prestigious award."

Selectman Michael Newhouse spoke first, "Congratulations, and just remember when you get recognized like this, people know who you are and understand that you have been successful," admonishing, "Remember that you have now set up an expectation for other folks in town to recognize you, and make sure you live up to that expectation."

Selectman Lou Cimaglia said, "Congratulations it's a lot of work to get to the level that you girls have done. You wear that W on your shirt with pride."

Selectman Michael McCoy said, "Congratulations, and above and beyond you girls, you can also thank your mom and dad, for driving you to all the festivities and the fields, and I think your parents deserve a round of applause. It's a real proud moment here in the Town."

Selectman Michael Champoux said, "Now you've competed around the country, going to Florida and other places," adding, "the way that you conduct yourselves and the way that you show yourselves in the community and other communities is the way that you represent Wilmington. Well deserved award."

Town Manager Jeffrey Hull, "It has all been said but time and effort put in is really something you should be proud of. Just recognize that if you put in the time and the commitment, good things will happen, so congratulations."

O'Connell stepped to the front with certificates. Two of the girls asked to speak. "We'd just like to say that everyone here is our family, and we'd just like to stay here forever, and we want to thank our coaches."

After the girls spoke, O'Connell handed out the certificates and photos were taken. Certificates were handed out to the coaches as well, Coach Deb Smith, Coach Del Thompson and Coach Janine Hersom.

The acknowledgement was appropriately concluded with a Wildcats cheer.

Cemetery thefts raise ire

grave, but one would like to think that flowers placed out of love would be respected.

Assistant Town Manager, Kendra Amaral told the Crier, "The police are respectful of what is happening to residents," and added that at this time Town Manager, Jeffrey Hull "Is looking into the problem."

The issue was brought up at the May 11th Board of Selectmen meeting.

Hull told residents at that time, "There is no easy answer."

There is no easy answer, as Wildwood is a public cemetery, and cameras are not a viable option as residents might feel there is a 'Big Brother is watching' component.

Amaral added, "There is no lack of Town attention. Police have attempted sting operations in the past," adding, "this has been going on for decades. Police have responded."

There used to be a watchman in the cemetery at the Hiller tomb, paid for by the estate of Dr. France Hiller. Known as the "casket lady," she paid for many improvements to the cemetery in the late 1800s. She died in 1900. In the 1930s, the tomb was leveled, the caskets were buried, and the watchman was no longer needed.

Wilmington police have thus far been unable to catch anyone taking flowers or mementoes from the cemetery. Part of the problem is that some of the thefts have been unreported. There has been a lack of community resolve to overcome the problem. There is no fence system or gates.

On Sunday, though, a group met with two officers at the Wilmington police station. A first step will be to make sure that the thefts are reported, so there is a record. There is no expectation that items will be returned.

A Facebook group has been formed under the name "Wildwood Warriors." It is a community action group, formed by Darleen Pacheco-Leroux. The Facebook page has only been up for a few days, and she has already received overwhelming support. In four days, she has already received 251 likes.

I've never done anything like this in my life," she said, "But something has to be done."

Theft reports can be filed at the police station, or by phone at 978-658-5071. Information may also be posted on the Facebook page, Wildwood Warriors.

Wilmington Honors the Fallen

Veterans' Day, which is also a federal government holiday, Memorial Day specifically honors those who have died in battle or as a result of injuries resulting from battle. Veteran's Day remembers deceased veterans, but also honors living military personnel for their service, in wartime and in peace.

In addition, the two are half a calendar year apart: Memorial Day is observed on the last Monday of May and Veterans' Day falls on November 11 each year.

In 1868, three years after the Civil War, Decoration Day was established as a day to honor the fallen by decorating their graves with flowers. May was possibly chosen for its spring flowers which were in bloom, according to the US Department of Veterans Affairs.

In 1882 Decoration Day became Memorial Day and in 1971, over a century after the Civil War ended, it became an official federal holiday.

In addition to decorating graves with flowers, veterans wear and sell poppies. The color red represents the blood of fallen soldiers, a tradition which refers to a 1915 poem "In Flanders Fields."

As previously reported in the Crier, if you are marching in the parade, the procession leaves the Market Basket parking lot Monday, May 25, 2015 at 10:00 am sharp. Bands, Honor Guards and all adult groups will meet at the Market Basket parking lot. Youth groups meet at the Wilmington House of Pizza and will be placed in the procession by a parade official.

The parade will head down Main Street, turn left down Rte. 62 and proceed to the Wildwood cemetery. The ceremony will begin at 11:00 am.

If your organization would like to participate in the parade, please contact The Department of Veterans' Services at (978) 694-2040.

"Please come out and enjoy Memorial Day weekend and remember all those who have served and those who have given their life to defend our freedom," said Lou Cimaglia IV, Director, Veteran's Services Offices.

Local man killed in crash highway and driving away. Anyone with information about a vehicle matching that description that may have been in Saugus yesterday shortly after 2 p.m. is urged to call State Police at (978) 745-8908 or (978) 538-6161."

Preliminary investigation suggests this vehicle may have triggered a sequence of events that led to the fatal crash shortly after 2 p.m. Specifically, the Honda CRV may have caused a commercial vehicle, which was traveling southbound in the right lane, to swerve to its left. When that commercial vehicle swerved to its left, it impacted a paving dump truck traveling southbound in the middle lane. As a result of that impact, the paving dump truck spun out of control, rolled toward its passenger side, and hit the steel ribbon guardrail before coming to rest on its wheels perpendicular across the highway.

The driver of the paving truck was determined to be deceased at the scene. He is identified as John R. Thebeau Jr., 62, of Wilmington.

The driver of the commercial vehicle was not injured.

Troopers responded to the crash scene on Route 1 southbound, between the Walnut Street and Lynn Fells Parkway exits, after State Police received multiple 911 calls from other motorists at 2:08 p.m. The crash investigation is being conducted by Troop A of the Massachusetts State Police with the assistance of the State Police Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Section, the State Police Crime Scene Services Section, and the State Police Detective Unit for Essex County.

A spokesperson for Essex County DA Jonathan Blodgett told the Town Crier that the matter remains under investigation by the Massachusetts State Police Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Section (CARS). No one has been charged at this time.

State Police spokesman David Procopio confirmed that the investigation is ongoing and that the Honda CRV has not yet been located.

Alatalo takes 18th at NE Meet

Bentley University freshman Holt Sihvonen (Lebanon, Conn./Lebanon HS) earned All-New England honors by virtue of placing fourth in the javelin at the New England Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association Championships May 8 at MIT's Henry Steinbrenner Track.

Sihvonen, on his first throw of the day, uncorked a throw of 191'6" to better his existing personal best by six inches. It was the sixth best distance recorded by a Division II freshman nationwide this season.

In the 10,000 meters, senior Mac Segura-Cook (Northwood, N.H./Coe-Brown Northwood Acad.) closed out his career by establishing a new PR. His time of 32:23.89 bettered his previous best by 1:02.79 and was good for 15th among 29 competitors.

Also in the 10,000, freshman Ryan Cadorette (Saco, Maine/Thornton Academy) was 16th in 32:43.46 and sophomore Eric Alatalo (Wilmington/Wilmington HS) was 18th in 33:07.26. Cadorette's time improved on his PR by more than 95 seconds.

'Cats on hot streak; qualify for tourney with 18-2 win over Woburn

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

jamiapote@hotmail.com

WILMINGTON - The last four appearances in the state tournament, the Wilmington High School Baseball team has scored a combined five runs in five games, winning just once. Well on Tuesday afternoon the team scored two touchdowns and a pair of two-point conversions in its 18-2 crushing defeat over Woburn held at the North Intermediate School.

The victory made it four in a row for the Wildcats but more importantly put the team into the Division 2 North Sectional tournament for the fifth time in the past six years.

"You know a lot of pressure was put on these guys at the beginning of the year," said head coach Aldo Caira. "Defending Freedom Division champs and nine returning players. A lot of the newspapers pick us to repeat and had us in the top 10 and top 25 in different polls. I think that kind of made the kids a little tense and they were afraid to make mistakes which is why we started out 6-6."

"The past four games the kids seemed to just put all that behind them and they are playing with this new attitude and renewed sense of energy. They are starting to believe in themselves and these last four games have shown it. A lot of hard work, playing together as one; they deserve to be here in the tourney. It's got us here where we want to be. I'm very proud of the way they responded."

"They are getting hot at the right times long as we can keep this going we might just do some damage in the tour-namment."

Wilmington is now 10-6 overall with the win.

"It was a real good game for us," said coach Aldo Caira. "Woburn has been on a hot streak. They started out 0-10 and were 5-11 coming into the game. We really hit everything they threw at us and hit it hard."

Hopefully that continues in the state tournament - play begins on June 3rd.

Leading the offensive charge in the 6-inning Slaughter Rule win over Woburn was senior Jamie Hill. He finished 4-for-5 and was a triple away from the cycle. He had two doubles and a walk off grand slam on a hit that landed halfway up the left field trees in the bottom of the sixth pushing the lead past 15 runs to end the game. He knocked in 5 runs and also scored four times. He has now hit safely in all 16 games this year, is 29-for-59, which is a .492 clip.

Also chipping in offensively were Graham Smith, who was 2-for-3 with two runs and a RBI, Brian Cavanaugh, who was 2-for-3, with 3 runs scored and 4 RBI including a 3-run triple in the third inning, and Evan Raffi had a double and knocked in two runs.

Junior left hander Jackson Gillis was back to his rare form on Tuesday. He has struggled for consistency in some of his earlier starts but this one he was on. He gave up just two hits in six innings, walked one, struck out 12 and gave up just one earned run. He improved his mark to 2-2.

"He pitched great, back to his 2014 form," said Caira.

PMC Kids Bike Ride raises thousands again

The 10th annual Pan-Mass Challenge Wilmington-Andover Kids Bike Ride was held on Sunday with approximately 95 riders from pre-school through 6th grade participating in the event.

Thus far, the PMC Wilmington-Andover Ride has raised over $133,000 for the Dana Farber Cancer Institute and Jimmy Fund, and this year's riders are hoping to add another $10,000-plus to that total.

"The reason why I love organizing this ride is not only because it raises thousands of dollars for an outstanding cause, but because it also shows what an incredibly generous and tight-knit community Wilmington is," said event organizer Sue Hendee. "In addition to the wonderful, supportive families participating in the ride, we also have Wilmington Public School teachers, staff, and middle school and high school students who volunteer."

Children spent anywhere from a half hour to one hour riding their bikes down Carter Lane from the Boutwell Early Childhood Center, around the West Intermediate School and back on a beautiful Sunday morning. Preschoolers rode their tricycles, big wheels, and scooters on an obstacle course around the Boutwell tennis courts.

Participants also enjoyed hot dogs grilled by the Wilmington Kiwanis Club, refreshments provided by Stop and Shop, face painting by the Andover HS girls' field hockey team, music donated by DJs Carl and Zach Toto, and raffles organized by members of the Wilmington HS girls' soccer team. Dozens of supporters lined the sidewalks of Carter Lane to cheer for the riders as they happily rode lap after lap for a great cause and 25 volunteers helped the ride run smoothly.

Before the ride started, special recognition was given to last year's top fundraisers Sophia Maynard and Carly Thayer of Wilmington, and Drew Watchel of Andover. Fifth grader Lyndsey Pettengill of Tewksbury was also honored as the ride's official "Pedal Partner" for the fifth year. Pedal Partners are children who have been treated at the Dana Farber Cancer Institute in Boston.

Hendee added that the entire event was very special, once again.

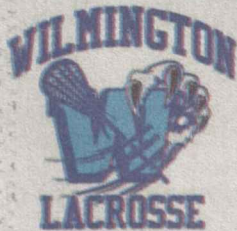

Above, Kindergarten and First Grade riders along with Wilmington Police Officer Brian Hermann and below, Brothers Emrick and Colby O'Brien enjoy some snacks and face painting after riding their bikes all during the 10th annual Pan-Mass Challenge Wilmington-Andover Kids Bike Ride held on Sunday. (courtesy photos).

"The day before the ride, Cub Scout Pack 136 ran a bike safety rodeo and bike/helmet check also held at the Boutwell School," she explained. "Wilmington Police officers rode the route or stayed on the route Sunday to keep our riders safe. Everyone involved in this event donated their time and services so that all of the money raised could be donated to help fight cancer."

"I love seeing the kids smiling, being active, and proud of their accomplishments. Having beautiful weather was just the icing on the cake; it really was a great day."

Tax deductible donations for the event can be made until September 1 by going to <http://www.kids.pmc.org/wilmington.aspx>.

Edge out Tewksbury, 12-11

Wilmington scores first two victories of season

By BRENDAN FOLEY
Sports Correspondent

BrendanMFoley@Outlook.com

WILMINGTON- A nail-biting contest between Wilmington High School and Tewksbury Memorial High School climaxed with the Wildcats victorious. Monday's Varsity Lacrosse game saw the Redmen visit the Wildcats, with both teams hungry for the win. With excellent play from both teams, it was Wilmington that managed to outlast the other and pull off a tremendous victory, with a final score of 12-11.

"It's good to be on home turf," laughed Wilmington coach Sarah Simpson. "We do well at home."

After a long, winless season, the Wildcats have roared to life in the home stretch. Last week saw their first victory, defeating Stoneham 15-6. This win over Tewksbury brings their season record to 2-12-1. The 'Cats kept that momentum as they rolled into Monday's game, opening up with three unanswered goals in just the first five minutes of the game.

"All the things we were sort of working on all season that put us behind early in the season, it really came together," Simpson said. "It didn't matter who we put out there, we were really working together."

Everyone on the team contributed to the effort, from the usual exemplary defense by Heather Trites and Jenny Holloran, to the wide number of goal scorers. Tina Natola led the day with five goals, followed close behind by Ashley Warren with three. Dana Rossetti and Rael Gallucci each chipped in one goal apiece, keeping Tewksbury goalie Jennifer Aguilar on her toes.

Simpson had special praise for Nicole McInney, who pulled out all the stops for the senior night game.

"She had her best game of the entire season today," Simpson said. "She's aggressive on the draws and she's great on offense and defense."

But perhaps no one had a better night than senior Caroline Albanese. Not only did she do her usual exemplary job on defense, but she grabbed her first goal of the season.

Despite these early setbacks, Tewksbury did not give up their attack. Freshman Kelly Golini proved nearly impossible for the Wildcats to stop, finding the back of the net over and over again. An unanswered streak of three goals in the second half tied

With the game tied at 11-11 with the clock running down, it was Natola that took the ball down the field and slammed it home for the winning point. Wilmington then ran the clock down using excellent passing and ball control to keep the ball cycling through the Tewksbury offensive zone without surrendering control over to the Redmen. When the ball was given up, huge saves by Wilmington goalie Emily Loud allowed the Wildcats to hold onto their lead and claim their second victory.

While Wilmington could celebrate their triumph, the close loss was a devastating hit for Tewksbury. In a season that has seen both struggle and triumph, the Redmen have repeatedly had victory snatched away from them at the last moment.

"Their margin of error is razor thin," said Tewksbury coach Joel McKenna. "They have to play perfect."

Because of his belief in his team, McKenna was frustrated by some of the mistakes the girls made during transition, believing that they surrendered control of the game to Wilmington with sloppy play.

"We threw the ball away too many times in transition and they capitalized on a number of things," McKenna said. "The girls played hard, and I can't take that away from them."

Monday also marked the senior night for Wilmington's departing upperclassmen, making the victory all the sweeter. Simpson reflected on all the great contributions made by the seniors, like the defensive force of Heather Trites, Caroline Albanese and Jenny Holloran.

"It was great to have girls like Heather, Jenny, and Caroline back there," Simpson said. "It's going to be hard to refill my defense."

And if the defense is going to be difficult to refill, that has nothing on the loss of midfielders like Gallucci or Rossetti.

"Rael is sort of my secret weapon," Simpson said. "I can put her in at any time when I know I need a quick goal. She's been racking up a lot of goals near the end of the season, which is nice to see. And Dana is very, very quick. She's got great moves and is really able to lose defenders and find the back of the net whenever she has the ball."

Fellow seniors Lianna Natola and Brittany Abbott

Simpson has no doubt that

Abbott will close out the year on top.

"Brittany is another secret weapon of mine," Simpson said. "She really turned up the pace at the end of this season. She's a great offensive player, and is great at reading the field."

Both Wilmington and Tewksbury have had up and down periods throughout this season. Tewksbury is still hoping for a playoff berth, while Wilmington will finish its season with an away game against Pentucket. Both coaches hope that the successes and frustrations will propel their teams to strong closes.

"The easy thing to do is to turn around and say the ref made a bad call or something," McKenna said. "That's not acceptable! You have to look inside and determine to the best of your ability and decide to do your best."

"The win last week really turned the page for the girls," Simpson said. "We're hoping for good things and to keep the momentum going."

Shawsheen Tech Softball team 7-7

Lady Rams hoping for late season magic

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com

One thing you definitely can't say about the Shawsheen Tech Softball team this season is that they play boring games. The Lady Rams, for better or for worse, have played in some thrillers this year, keeping their fans on the edge of their seats in nearly every game, and this past week was no exception.

The results this season have been mixed as well, and once again this week was no exception, as Shawsheen played a pair of thrillers, coming out on top in one, and falling a little short in the other before winning their third game of the week in blowout fashion.

After all of their hard work this week, which included a 9-8 win over Greater Lowell last Thursday, a 5-3 loss to Essex Tech on Saturday and a 7-1 blowout of Minuteman on Monday, the Lady Rams found themselves sitting with a 7-7 record with four games left in the season, needing at least a split in their final four games if they were going to clinch a spot in the Division 3 State Tournament.

It will not be easy for Shawsheen, who were set to face non-league rivals Arlington Catholic and Triton on Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively, before taking on Whittier Tech on Thursday and Essex Tech next Tuesday to wrap up their season.

The Lady Rams have already faced all four teams earlier in the season, going 1-3 in those contests, with their lone win coming in a 15-14 eight inning thriller over Triton in the second game of the season.

"We have our work cut out for us," Shawsheen coach Maureen Buckley. Really in all of these games it has been one or two ugly innings that have hurt us, with the exception of Whittier, where we just played a bad game and lost 10-1. These are games that we can win, but we can't be making mistakes like we did the first time around."

Shawsheen got ready for their stretch run on Monday with a 7-1 blowout of CAC rival Minuteman, scoring five runs in the first inning before coasting to the victory.

Lauren Barletta led the way on offense for Shawsheen, going 2-for-5 with a run scored, while Ari Nicosia was on base all day long, going 1-for-1, with three walks, while also reaching on an error and scoring two runs.

Sophomore Liz Freitas of Wilmington meanwhile came on in relief to pitch five strong innings, allowing just one unearned run.

In their previous game, Shawsheen had spotted Essex Tech a 5-0 early lead before fighting back with three runs and threatening to tie or take the lead in the bottom of the sixth and seventh innings before falling short in a 5-3 defeat, which at the time dropped their record to 7-7.

Senior catcher Jamie Ray of Tewksbury powered the Shawsheen offense, going 2-for-3, including a long two run home run, while fellow senior and Tewksbury resident Mariah Wentzell also added a pair of hits and scored two runs.

The Lady Rams had started their week with a game that has become typical of many of their wins in a 9-8 thriller over Greater Lowell last Thursday, overcoming a 7-4 deficit late in the game, scoring five runs over the last two innings of the game to come away with the big victory.

Buckley was happy with the way her team, who scored three times in the sixth and twice in the seventh to earn the victory, had fought back, but she would have liked to see them avoid putting themselves in such a deep hole in the first place.

"We made an awful lot of errors, and that has been what is killing us, along with our pitchers giving up a lot of walks," Buckley said. "Our pitchers have gotten a little better with the walks, but we have to tighten up our defense."

Katie Stevens of Wilmington went 3-for-4 on the day with three runs scored and an RBI, while Jamie Ray had another 3-for-4 day with two runs scored, and Jordan Walsh went 2-for-4, including rapping a single to start the seventh inning rally.

Kerri Hegarty of Tewksbury pitched a complete game for the Lady Rams to pick up the win, striking out five batters, while also walking five and overcoming some shaky defense behind her.

"We need her to minimize her walks and she is doing better with that the last few games," Buckley said. "We will need her to continue that over the next few games."

Buckley knows she will need her entire team to step up their game over the final four games of the season if they hope to advance to the post season and make some noise once they are in the tournament.

"We have had many games where we have fallen behind and fought back and I give the girls a lot of credit for that," Buckley said. "But that is not the way to play if you hope to have success in the tournament. It is a matter of the Lady Rams playing like the Lady Rams are capable of, and if we do that, we will be all right."

Softball team wins two and needs just one more

WILMINGTON - The red-hot Wilmington High School Softball team has kept up its winning ways with two more win this past week, knocking off Watertown 15-3 last Wednesday before playing very sloppy in the early goings only to come back to score four runs in the bottom of the sixth to overcome Stoneham, 6-4 on Friday night. The two wins pushes the team's record to 9-6 overall and one more win puts the program into the state tournament for the first time in four years.

"I know that I'm aggravated right now because we didn't play well and we're a lot better than this, but how we won the last few games (has been great)," said coach Audrey Cabral-Pini. "We were down 2-0 against Melrose and come back for a walk-off win. Then we didn't allow any runs against Wakefield and played awesome and that was probably our best game. Then (Friday), coming back the way we did with two outs, no one on in the bottom of the sixth (and scored four runs).

"Our last six games we really haven't hit the ball, it's all small ball now which is fine and that's what we need to do but these girls don't quit. A lot of times in the past they would have quit. But we're still making physical and mental errors and against a team that's really talented, those are the things that will hurt us."

Stoneham led 2-0, scoring both runs on an error, two walks, a single and a passed ball in the wild top of the second inning, which included Wilmington pulling off a triple play on a line drive out and some sloppy base running by the Spartans. The Wildcats cut the deficit in half scoring a run in the bottom of the second on a RBI single by Jenn Dovidio (3-for-4, 2 RBI, 4 stolen bases and 2 runs scored) to bring home Dana Goulet, who walked and stole second.

The score remained the same until Stoneham added two more runs in the top of the fifth - all coming with two outs and the bases empty on a hitsbatsman and two singles.

Wilmington again scored one run as Dovidio reached on a bunt single with two outs and the bases empty, before stealing second and third and coming home on the wild throw which sailed into left field.

Then in the bottom of the sixth, Wilmington again started a rally with the bases empty and two outs. Liz Gordon, the No. 7 hitter, singled to center. Goulet followed with a groundball to third, but the ill-advised throw to second allowed both runners to reach safely. Adele Burton kept the rally going with base hit to center field to score Gordon, push Goulet to third while the throw in allowed Burton to alertly take second. Dovidio followed with an infield single to drive in Burton. Dovidio then stole second and came in when Brittany Garrard reached on an infield single but the throw was juggled at first and Dovidio came around to score.

"(This win) means a lot. We need one more win to hopefully get into the tournament for the first time (in four years)," said Dovidio.

Dovidio was the winning pitcher. She was a little wild than normally but settled down nicely in the last two innings when it mattered the most.

"Jenn does a nice job and I don't think she realizes how good she really is," said Cabral-Pini. "She keeps us in the game both pitching and with her speed on the bases."

Dovidio also picked up the win over Watertown. She was helped out offensively by Makayla Donahue with three RBI and scored three runs, Antonia Kieran who added two hits, two RBI and she scored three times, while, Shannon Horgan and Meghan Rodenhiser each had one hit and scored one run.

"We have improved a lot," said Cabral-Pini. "The kids just really believes in themselves and we have great team chemistry and that makes a difference."

On Monday, Wilmington was defeated by Woburn, 7-4 to fall to 9-7 overall. The 'Cats built a 3-1 lead after four innings against a red-hot Tanners team, before seeing the lead vanish over the last four innings.

The score was tied at 4-4 after six before Woburn scored three runs in the seventh to prevail. Defensively Dana Goulet turned a nice base. Offensively Liz and Makayla Donahue all double play from second Gordon, Shannon Horgan had key base hits.

Woods throws 9-inning shut out, improves to 4-1

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

jamiepote@hotmail.com
WILMINGTON - Besides the second inning and perhaps the eighth inning, Matt Woods made everything look so effortless. He has such an easy fluid motion, he mixes up his pitches very well, he hits the corners, throws harder when he has too and takes something off when he has too. All of that is why the junior southpaw has nearly half of the Wilmington High School Baseball team's victories this season.

On Friday afternoon, Woods improved to 4-1 on the season as threw a nine-inning complete game shut out over Stoneham. Wilmington scored the lone run of the game in the bottom of the ninth inning on a dropped infield pop up to come away with the 1-0 league win over Stoneham.

Woods now has four wins in his five starts - beating Melrose, Watertown, Arlington and Stoneham - while the team is 8-6 overall and 4-5 in games he doesn't start. On the season he has tossed 35.1 innings, giving up just 6 earned runs on 30 hits while striking out 30. He currently has a 1.19 earned run average.

The difference? Easily his vastly improved breaking ball.

"Oh yeah, absolutely," agreed Wilmington Baseball Coach Aldo Caira. "His breaking ball is making his fastball look five miles per hour faster. He's not as overpowering like Jackson (Gillis) is, but that breaking ball when he throws it for strikes, allows him to throw that fastball (as well) and keep the opposing batters off balance."

In Friday's win, Woods and the rest of his teammates had to wait around as Stoneham arrived late and the game started about an hour late. That didn't distract him as he went to work right away. He retired the side in order on three quick groundball outs in the top of the first, before giving up three singles to load the bases with one out in the top of the second. He then got out of the jam with a strike-out and a pop up to short-stop. After that, over the next five innings, Woods gave up just two hits, including a lead-off double to counterpart Brendan Dudman, but he was out trying to steal third base on a great throw by Evan Raffi.

With one out in the top of the eighth, Woods gave up a walk before striking out the next hitter Nathan Cox. Steve Toussiant followed with a base hot before Woods got out of jam with a fly out keeping the game scoreless.

"(Woods) only had like 82 pitches after seven innings, so I was comfortable with that," said Caira. "I was comfortable with him throwing around 100 and then he had a five-pitch inning in the ninth. So how do you tell a kid who is throwing a shut out against another kid (that he has to come out?). But I was watching Matty, and if he got into trouble (I would have pulled him). But, you know and can see the signs - if he gets high in the strike zone or is struggling to throw strikes (then you know he's had enough) but he never did (show those signs). He just pitched a great game."

Woods came out for the ninth, tossed five pitches and got three outs on a three-pitch strikeout and two fly balls. That set the stage for the bottom of the ninth as Connor Zaya scored the game winner on a dropped pop up.

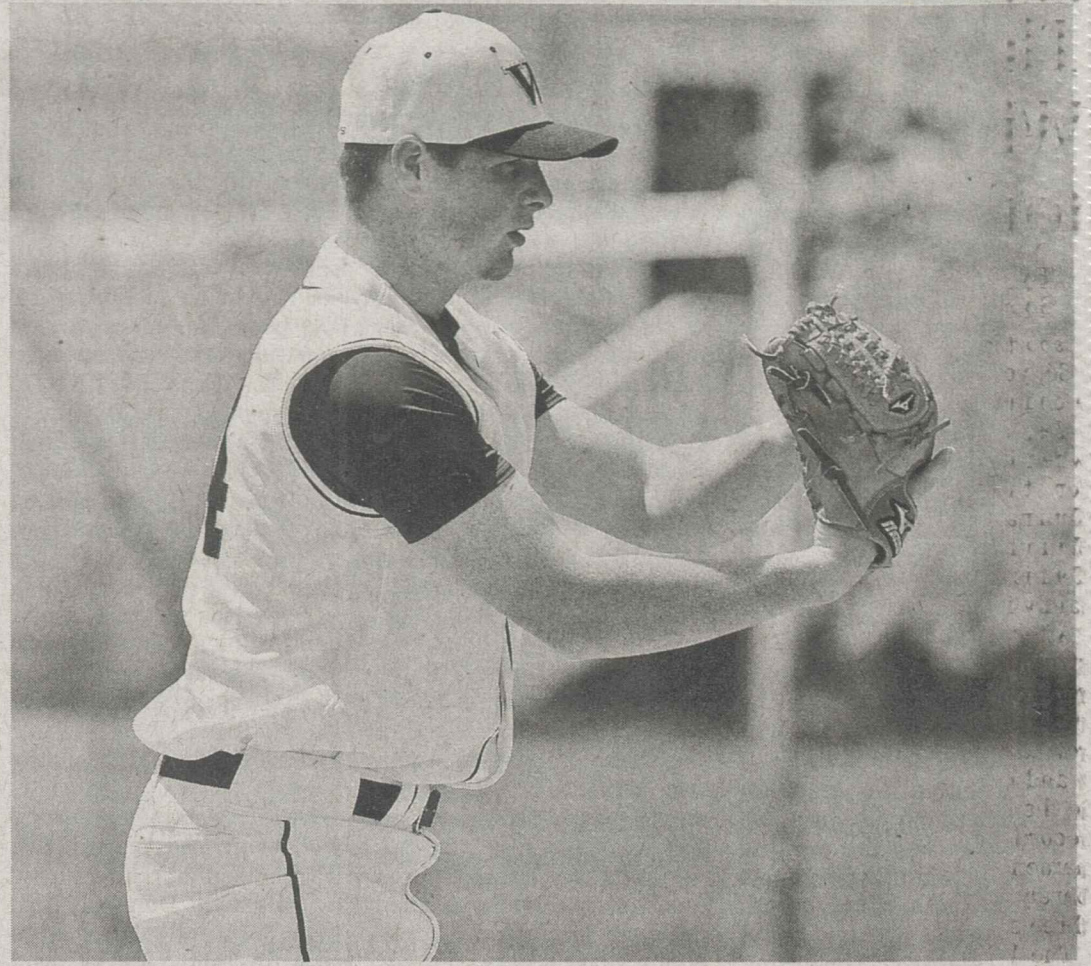

"We struggled early on (in the season) so this is a big win for us. It gets us one step closer to making the (state) tournament," said Woods. "Now we're on a roll, winning two in a row."

Woods said that despite going the nine innings, his longest start of the season (four complete games this year) he felt pretty good in those last few innings.

"I felt good. I struggled a bit in the eighth inning but I got through it and then ninth was definitely a much better (and quicker) inning. The motivation just kept me going," he said.

Woods was asked about his breaking ball and agreed that the improvement on that pitch is probably why he's off to such a dynamite start.

"Yeah, I think so. No one can touch that," he said with a big laugh. "It's more of a 12-to-6 (breaking ball) than a slider this year. I think that's more of a difference this year (for my success) because it breaks a lot more. I just changed my arm slot and then I just started throwing in the cages during the

'Cats prevail on pair of walk-off victories

By JAMIE POTE

WILMINGTON - For eight innings, Stoneham didn't look like an 0-14 team. But in the bottom of the ninth, things unraveled for the Spartans, and Wilmington took advantage of that and scored the lone run in a magnificent high school baseball game played Friday afternoon at the North Intermediate.

Pinch-runner Connor Zaya scored the game's winning run as he came home on a dropped pop-up behind the second base bag off the bat of Matt Spurr, lifting Wilmington to the 1-0 walk-off extra inning win, and improve the team's record to 8-6 overall.

The walk-off error was overshadowed by the performances of both pitchers who were brilliant. Stoneham's Brendan Dudman was sensational on the day with pin-point control. He didn't give up an extra base hit, allowed only one walk which was intentional in the ninth and struck out five, while getting 12 groundball outs.

Wilmington's Matt Woods had very similar numbers. He walked one batter, gave up just one extra base hit, struck out six and induced nine groundball outs and 15 infield outs.

"It was a great high school baseball game," said Wilmington head coach Aldo Caira. "We had two pitchers who were just battling. Their kid can throw, he can throw and Matty (Woods) kept right up with him. Matty could have gone three or four more innings. He was fresh, he was all around the plate today, hitting his corners and he just pitched a gem, a gem."

Woods retired the side in order on just five pitches in the top of the ninth before watching his teammates score the lone run of the game in the home half to improve his record to 4-1 on the season.

The red-hot Jamie Hill started the rally with his third single of the day. Zaya came on to run for him and advanced to second on a wild pick-off throw from the catcher. Evan Raffi then sacrificed Zaya to third. Stoneham elected to walk Jackson Gillis (but not Spurr, which was odd with the No. 8 and No. 9 batters to follow), who took second on the defensive indifference. Spurr then lifted a high pop up behind the second base bag, and the second baseman dropped it, and while the center fielder Cory O'Brien tried to dive to get the ricochet, the ball landed on the ground allowing Zaya to touch home plate and get mobbed by his teammates.

But it all started with the sharp base hit up the middle by Hill.

"He's been doing it all year," said Caira. "He's just been a monster. He just gets up there and hits the ball hard every time. The Stoneham coach just said to me that he doesn't have a kid who takes a powerful swing like Jamie does. And he does. He does not get cheated out of any swing that he takes."

Wilmington had just eight hits in the game, all singles. Hill had three, while Gillis had two to go along with his walk, while Graham Smith had two including a lead-off bunt single in the bottom of the first. Freshman Danny Gracia had the other hit but in this game he stole the show defensively by making an incredible play in the hole to begin the play with a complete 180 degree turn before firing to first to record the out.

"That first play of the game was a real nice highlight," said Caira. "He played really well, and defensively we did play a strong game. I would have liked a few more hits in there. Offensively, I said way back before the season started that we could struggle and that's always been in the back of my mind."

"The other day we had 12 hits against Watertown and we smacked the ball all around the field. The kids were taking their whacks at it, they were taking their whacks and they just weren't falling in today."

In that 12-6 win over Watertown the day before, Gillis picked up his first victory of the season going five innings, giving up three earned runs on three hits while walking two and striking out six. Joe Scurto tossed the final two scoreless innings with four strikeouts.

Offensively, Gillis had two hits including a double, a triple and 2 RBI. Matt Spurr and Gracia each had two hits and also combined for two doubles, 3 RBI and 3 runs scores, while Smith had a triple, sacrifice fly and knocked in 3 runs.

Another Walk-Off Win

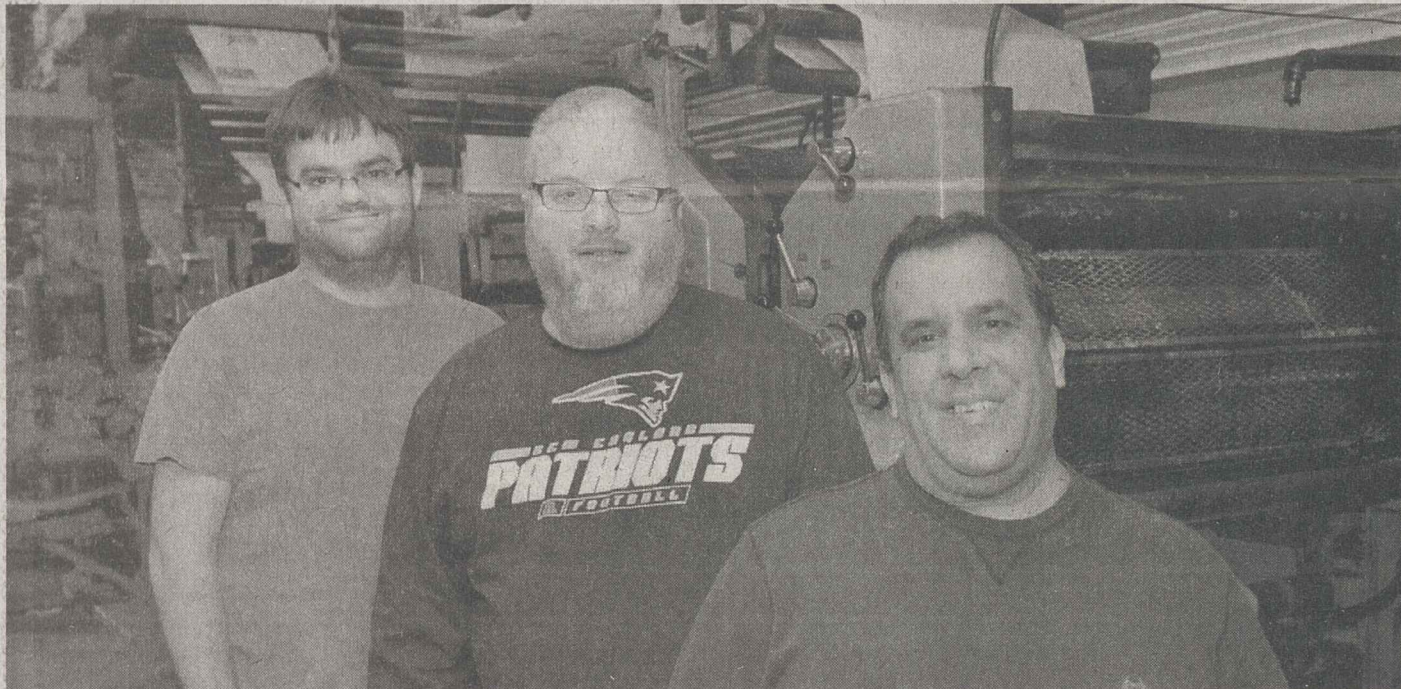

On Monday, Wilmington defeated Melrose, 5-4 in 9 innings and scored the game winning run as Brian Cavanaugh singled home Peter Daley for the dramatic walk-off victory.

Wilmington had tied the game earlier when Devin Field singled, Daley walked and they both moved up first on a sacrifice bunt by Zach Abbott and then a RBI single by Graham Smith.

Offensively, Jamie Hill kept up his torrid season going 2-for-4 and has at least one hit in all 15 games this season, while Jackson Gillis had two hits, scored a run and had a RBI.

Joe Scurto picked up the win in relief going 2.1 innings, giving up one run on three hits, one walk and striking out two. He relieved freshman Dan Gracia, who did very well going 6.2 innings, giving up just one earned run on seven hits while walking one and striking out six.

The Town Crier Sports Department prides itself on being the best weekly sports section, not only in the two towns of Wilmington and Tewksbury, but in the entire state. No other weekly sports section covers every high school varsity athletic team like we do for WHS, TMHS and Shawsheen Tech. No other weekly newspaper covers local college and professional athletes like we do, as well as give coverage to road races, adult sports, and provide pages of youth sports in both towns every week.

The Town Crier provides accurate, insightful, and indepth coverage of all local teams and hard-working athletes every week, and has done so for the past five decades. The Sports Department of Jamie Pote, Mike Ippolito and Brendan Foley pride themselves on not only being the Sports Faces of both Wilmington and Tewksbury, but telling great stories about the athletes of these two terrific towns.

Three victories pushes Wildcats closer to a tourney appearance

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent
sports@yourtowncrier.com

So, you're telling us there's a chance? Yes, as a matter of fact, when it comes to qualifying for the Division 2 State Tournament, for the Wilmington High Boys Tennis team, there most certainly is a chance.

After entering last week struggling along with a 4-7 record, the Wildcats ran off three impressive wins in a row to even their record at 7-7 and keep them very much in the hunt for a .500 season record and that state tournament berth that has just barely eluded them the past three seasons.

The Wildcats started their week with a 3-2 win over Wakefield last Wednesday, before following that up with a 4-1 win over Watertown on Friday and wrapping things up with a 5-0 rout of Stoneham on Monday.

With four matches left in the season, and three of them coming up this week, the Wildcats must win at least two of them in order to finish .500 and qualify for the state tournament after missing out on the post season in each of the last three years with an 8-10 record each time.

The Wildcats first match of the week was their closest of the week, and also the most critical. A loss to Wakefield at the time would have dropped them to 4-8 and would not only have been incredibly demoralizing, it would have meant a huge hill to climb the rest of the season.

But the Wildcats were not going to be denied, earning a clutch 3-2 win to start their winning streak.

"That was a nail biter, as it usually is for us against Wakefield," Wilmington coach Rob Mailey said. "I am just glad we came out on top."

Senior co-captain Robbie Mailey and sophomore Evan Meyers picked up singles wins for the Wildcats, with Mailey taking first singles 7-6, 4-6, 6-2 and Meyers taking third singles 6-1, 7-6.

Picking up a clutch win in second doubles were Jon

MacKinnon and Jake Vieira who dominated their match on the way to a 6-1, 6-2 victory.

"They have been on a little roll lately," Mailey said. "That was a big win for us in a big match. Actually, the whole team deserves a lot of credit for combining for a big win."

In the 4-1 win over Watertown, the Wildcats got wins in each of their singles matches, led by senior co-captain Justin Wright in first singles by a score of 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, followed by Robbie Mailey in second singles by a score of 6-2, 6-4.

"Justin did a great job, being able to refocus after the first set and get aggressive. He cut down on errors as the match went on and it was a real nice win for him," coach Mailey said. "Robbie's match was never really in question. He played really well. He is playing with a lot of confidence right now."

Meyers rolled to a 6-1, 6-2 win in third singles, continuing what has been an excellent sophomore season.

"Evan is the future of our team, and he has been stepping up his game recently," Mailey said. "He has really improved his game. He is moving his feet much better and playing with a lot of confidence."

MacKinnon and Vieira picked up the Wildcats other win of the day, in first doubles, taking a hard fought 6-3, 7-5 victory.

"They got tested, and they responded very well," Mailey said. "They were down 5-4 in the second set, but they pulled themselves together to get a big win."

In the win over Stoneham, the Wildcats singles players rolled to victory, with Wright winning 6-1, 6-1, Mailey winning 6-2, 6-1 and Meyers taking a 6-0, 6-1 victory, while MacKinnon and Vieira took a 6-2 6-1 victory in first doubles.

Juniors Mike Gake and Quinton Foley took their second doubles match by a score of 6-2, 6-2, offering a glimpse into the future for Wildcats tennis.

"They had a great match and they are going to be two leaders of this team next season," Mailey said.

After their impressive week there is still work to be done for the Wildcats. They have been here before after all, only to come up short. But Mailey feels like this team just may be different.

The Wildcats began their quest on Tuesday night against non-league rival Belmont, and will follow that with matchups against another non-league foe, Billerica on Wednesday before traveling to Wakefield for a rematch next Tuesday and closing out the season with Lexington next Thursday.

"The kids are pretty pumped. We have been exactly where we are right now the past three years," Mailey said. "The kids know what's coming, and I know they are going to give everything they have. I have to say I like our chances. Our kids are very motivated."

Bennett takes second place in discus at ML Championships

By JAMIE POTE

WELLESLEY - On Tuesday afternoon, the Wilmington High School Boys Track-and-Field team participated in the annual Middlesex League Championship Meet held at Regis College in Wellesley. The Wildcats finished in 9th place out of 12 teams as Lexington easily won the meet.

Wilmington had five individuals place in the top seven as well as two relays team which accounted for the team's 31 points. Senior Connor Bennett had the best performance as he was second in the discus throwing 123-04. Both Joe Gaudreau and Steve Layon finished in fifth place with the former clocked at 22.92 in the 200 and the latter throwing 137-05 in the javelin.

Rounding out the individual scoring were Evan Sperlinga in the 100 (11.41) and Nathan Vince in the triple jump (39-05) as they both earned one point each with a seventh place finish.

Wilmington also scored some points in the relay races. The 4x100 team of Sperlinga, Brad Aldrich, Craig Venezia and Gaudreau finished with a combined time of 44.71 seconds, good for third place.

And the 4x400 team of Justin Ekstrom, Kevin Goncalves, Ryan Horgan and Dan Judkins were seventh with a combined time of 3:46.56.

"Hats off to Bennett and the 4x100 relay team," said coach Mike Kinney. "Both should do well at the state meet. We have fifteen total athletes going to states including the 4x100 relay team which is all underclassmen. They keep improving and are executing very well against some tough competition. Senior leadership this year has been tremendous. They have kept the team focused in practice.

"The entire team has put in an enormous amount of work and the commitment and dedication have been outstanding. We are looking for a strong finish at the state meet."

On Saturday, Wilmington finished 14th at the annual State Class C Relay Meet held at Burlington High. Wilmington placed in four events including the javelin, 4x200, 4x100 and 4x110 hurdles and just missed on placing in the high jump, discus and triple jump.

The javelin team had the best performance, taking third overall behind the efforts of Layon, Matt Abbott and Jomikeson Beray, who had a combined throw of 375-07.

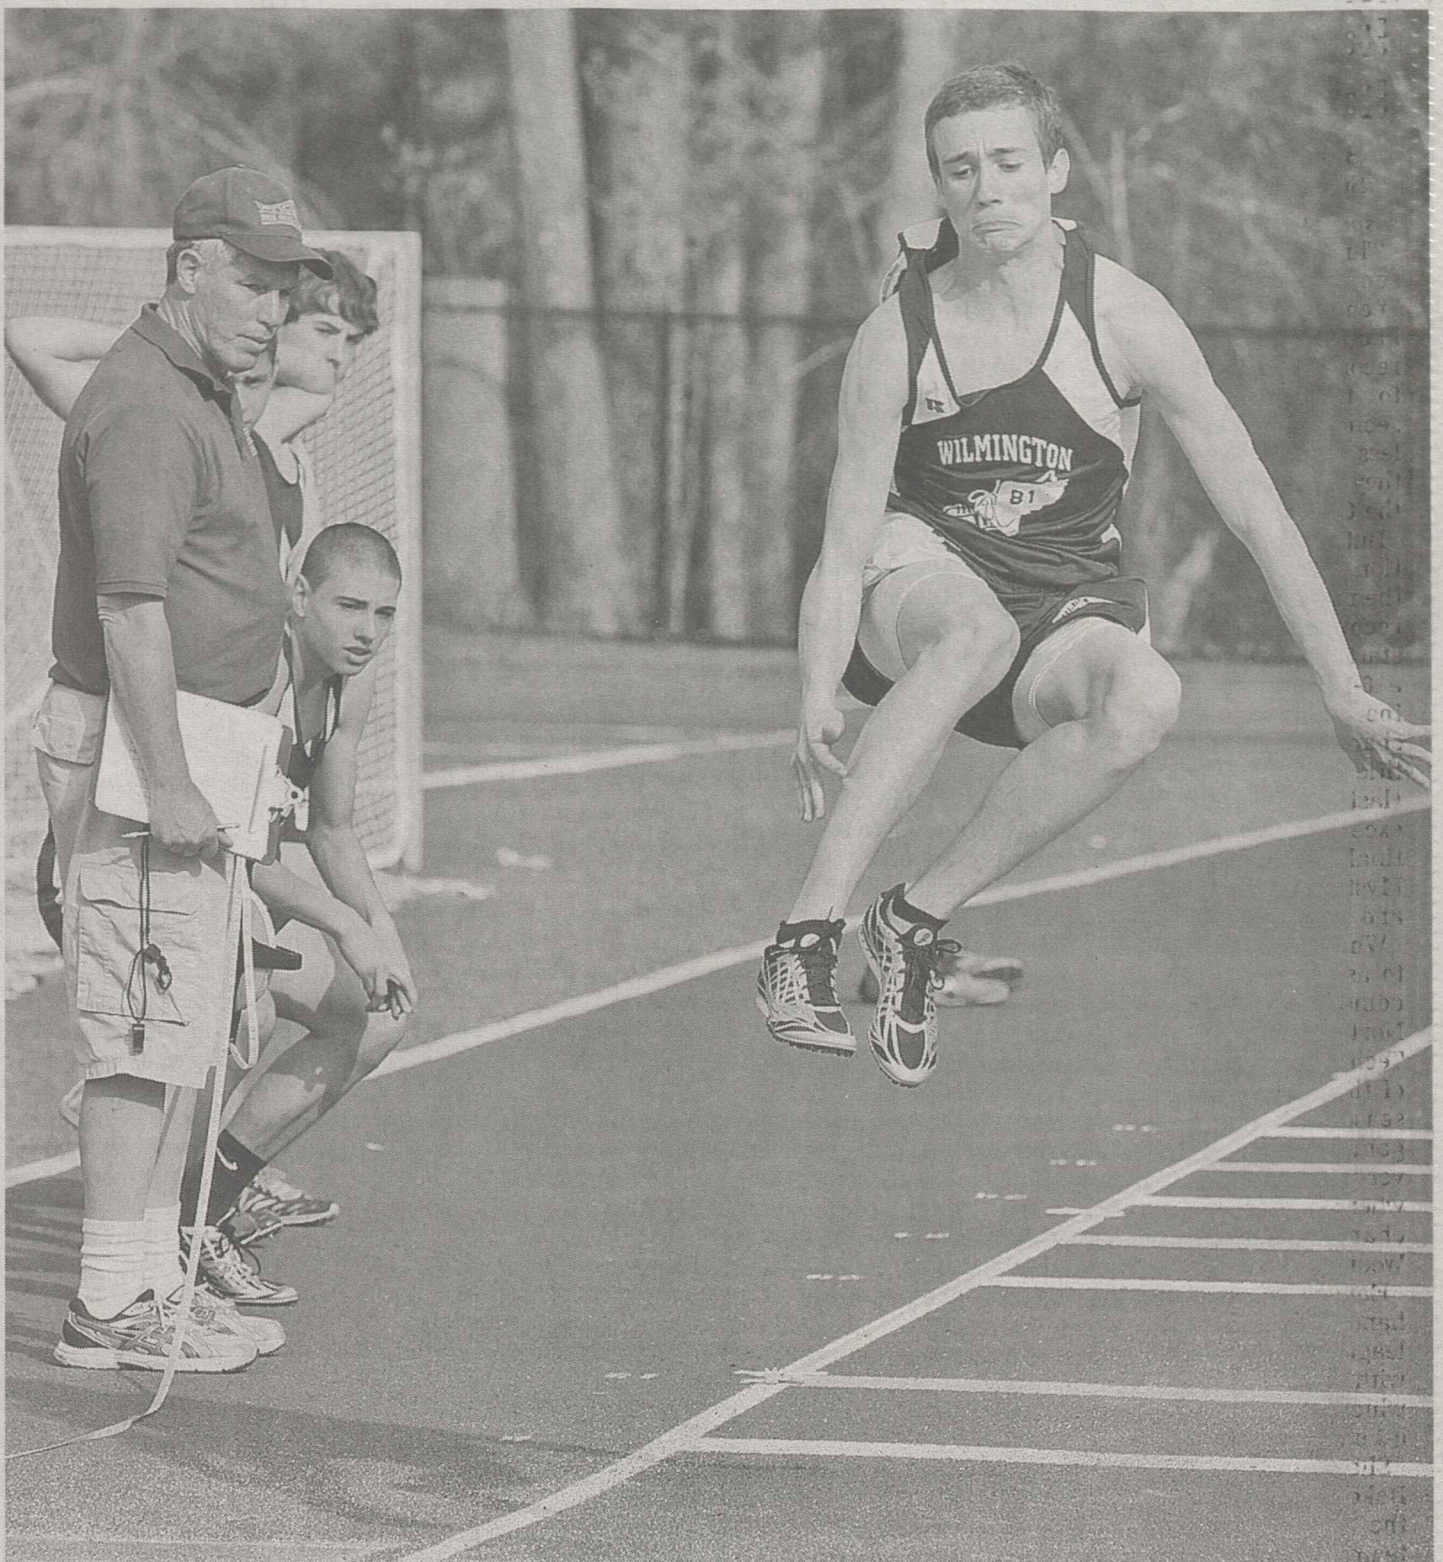

The 4x200 team consisted of Aldrich, Sperlinga, Gaudreau and Venezia, who combined for a time of 1:33.83 which was good for fourth place while they also joined together in the 4x100 to take sixth place with a time of 44.98 seconds.

The last team to place was the 4x100 hurdle team which consisted of Rohleder, Luke McInnis, Vince and Bennett, who were clocked at 1:10.55.

Both the high jump and discus teams finished in seventh place. The high jump team consisted of Vince, Chris Patrone and Ben Rohleder, and they finished clearing a combined 16-2.

The discus team had Connor Bennett with Kyle Nelson and Layon and they finished with a 321-1 combined mark.

team of Joe Dunn, Jon Sears, Richards and Jesse Valente finished 10th with a combined time of 13:08.21. The 4x1600 relay team of Chris Maienza, Kevin Dunn, Conor Bailey and Abbott finished 11th with a time of 20:52.82.

The long jump team of Abbott, Bennett and Horgan also finished 11th with a combined leap of 55-00.25. Also the 4x400 team of Dan Bell, Sperlinga, Goncalves and Ekstrom finished 14th with a time of 3:42.40.

And finally the sprint medley team of Steven Godfrey, Horgan, Bailey and Devin Langenfeld finished 19th with a time of 4:10.85.

Last Tuesday, Wilmington defeated Stoneham 73.5-62.5 in the team's final regular season meet ending the team's dual meet record at 4-2. Nathan Vince led the day as he placed in three individual events including two seconds in the 110-meter hurdles (17.0) and the 400-meter hurdles (63.3) as well as taking third in the triple jump (39-3.50).

Other multiple place finishers include Ben Rohleder who was first in both the high jump (6-0) and the 110-meter hurdles (16.8), Connor Bennett who was second in the discus (121-9) and second in the long jump (19-6) and Russell Abbott, who picked up two thirds in the long jump (18-8) and mile (5:15).

Other first places came from Chris Maienza in the two mile (11:26), Conor Bailey in the mile (5:08) and the two relay teams, the 4x100 consisting of Aldrich, Sperlinga, Venezia and Gaudreau who finished at 44.9 seconds and the 4x400 of Dan Bell, Goncalves, Ekstrom and Godfrey, who finished at 3:45.8.

Other second places were earned by Kyle Nelson in the shot put (39-10), Steve Layon in the javelin (131-11.50), Devin Langenfeld in the triple jump (39-6), Aldrich in the 100 (11.6), Ekstrom in the mile (5:12) and Goncalves in the 400 (55.8).

Finally third places were Dan Judkins in the 400-meter hurdles (64.8), Jesse Valente in the two mile (12:29), Godfrey in the 100 (11.8) and Chris Patrone tied for third in the high jump clearing 5-3.

"Overall it was a great team win with strong contributions from many athletes," said Kinney. "Of the 16 events, we only got first place finishes in five events. Therefore the meet was won with depth and by taking many seconds and thirds. We were led by the seniors who rose to the occasion in their last dual meet."

Girls 4x800 relay squad breaks school record at state class relay meet

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

jamiepote@hotmail.com
WELLESLEY - Three individuals placed in the top seven of their respective events to lead the Wilmington High School Girls Track-and-Field team to an 11th overall place in the 12-team Middlesex League Championship Meet held Tuesday afternoon at Regis College in Wellesley. Lexington won the meet, doubling up as the boys also won the trophy.

"The entire girls team has worked incredibly hard this season for individual and team success," said head coach Brie Karow. "Each meet has reflected this success. Girls cut multiple seconds off of their times, which is not an easy task. Spring track is a long season and we are fortunate to have a decent size group going to states."

For the Wilmington Girls team, senior Amber Peach placed in two events as she was sixth in both the 400-meter hurdles (1:10.63) and long jump (15-06.50). The best performance on the day belonged to Elisabeth Olson, who continued to vastly improve, as she was third in the mile coming in at 5:36.04.

"Elisabeth cut five seconds off her previous best time (on Tuesday)," said Karow. "She has qualified for the state meet in the mile, two mile and is part of the 4x800 relay team that broke a school record (on Saturday)."

Also placing at the ML Meet was Julie Gake who was fourth in the 400 at 1:01.07.

Two relay teams just missed out on placing as the 4x100 team of Taeya Peroni, Kaila Bavin, Jessica Hogan and Siobhan Turner finished at 54.40 seconds for 8th place, and the 4x400 team was also 8th with a time of 4:25.51 and that foursome was Samantha Pitzi, Jackie Fraser, Taylor Santry and Gake. Both of those relay teams have qualified for the state meet.

Another highlight of the meet came from Anna DeLaCruz, who finished 15th in the mile at 6:07.04 but that was 15 seconds better than her previous best time, an amazing accomplishment.

On Saturday, Wilmington participated at the annual Class C State Relay Meet held at Burlington High School. Although the Wildcats didn't score any points (placing a team in the top six of any event) the team still had some strong performances including the 4x800 relay team.

The foursome of Elisabeth Olson, Julia Gake, Sam Pitzi and Taylor Santry - four National Honor Society students as well - broke the school's record with a combined time of 10:15.19, to take 7th place and just missing out on placing.

Santry, Pitzi and Gake joined up with Jackie Fraser in the 4x400 relay race and that group finished 12th with a time of 4:23.43. Fraser then joined Kaila Bavin, Jessica Hogan and Siobhan Turner to take 9th in the 4x200 relay with a time of 1:54.58. Bavin, Hogan and Turner joined Peroni in the 4x100 and they finished 19th with a time of 53.56.

In the final two running events, it was DeLaCruz with Isabella Granara, Katy Bischoff and Lian Tran in the sprint medley relay and that group finished 23rd with a time of 5:05.45, and then in the distance medley relay, it was DeLaCruz with Peach, Annie Romanzo and Olson and they finished 16th with a time of 14:45.70.

In the field events, Wilmington was led by the long jump trio of Hogan, Bavin and Peach, who were 11th in the long jump with a combined mark of 45-04.25.

The discus trio of Caroline Andersen, Avery Andersen and Bischoff were 14th at 205-09, while the javelin team of Raniece Turner, Abby Chase and Heather Niemiec finished 15th with a combined throw of 221-11.

Finally the shot put team of Brianna Tavares, Caroline Andersen and Avery Andersen were 17th with a combined throw of 75-08.25.

Reversal of Fortunes for Rams on the Lacrosse Fields

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com

Three games into the season, when the Shawsheen Tech Boys Lacrosse team had started with an 0-3 record, and were struggling to find their offense, it seemed very unlikely that less than two months later they would be closing in on the CAC title.

But that is exactly the position the Rams now find themselves in, with a 9-3 record since their rough start (9-6 overall), including a 6-1 mark in league play, the Rams can wrap up a share of their sixth league title in the past seven years (last season being the only exception) if they win their final three games, over Mystic Valley, Nashoba Tech and Northeast Metro Tech.

While it would seem logical to assume the Rams should come out on top against Northeast and Nashoba Tech, having defeated each of them handily earlier this season, the Rams toughest game of their season may very well be their next one, when they take on defending champ Mystic Valley on Wednesday at Shawsheen.

Earlier this season, Mystic handed the Rams their only league loss of the season with a 14-9 win at Mystic which was part of the Rams 0-3 start.

Shawsheen coach Chuck Baker has enjoyed seeing the improvement in his team, but also knows they must continue to get better if they want to tie Mystic for the league crown, and perhaps advance to the State Vocational Tournament and the Division 2 State Tournament.

"We have been showing some improvement, but the competition level is not always that high (in the CAC)," Baker said. "On that note, it is great to see some teams in the league starting to become more competitive. Essex Tech and Greater Lowell seem to continue to get better each season. That is great to see."

In Shawsheen's most recent win, a 14-6 triumph over Nashoba Tech, the Rams got four goals from junior midfielder Josh Bouley and two goals from freshman Will Bouley. The Bouley brother also combined for seven goals (five for Will and two for Josh) in the Rams 13-7 win the day before over Greater Lowell.

Will is now second on the team in scoring with 27 goals and 10 assists for 37 points, while Josh has 12 goals and six assists of his own for 18 points.

Will has been doing a great job for us at attack," Baker said. "Josh is a great athlete at midfielder and has been stepping his game up as of late. It is perfect timing with end of the season stuff upon us."

Senior midfielder/attack Tom Avtgis also had a big offensive week for the Rams, with two goals and two assists in the win over Nashoba and a goal and three assists the day before against Greater Lowell.

"Tom is very consistent. He is a great playmaker and can also put the ball in the net," Baker said. "I moved him to attack a few weeks ago and he has helped our offense out big time."

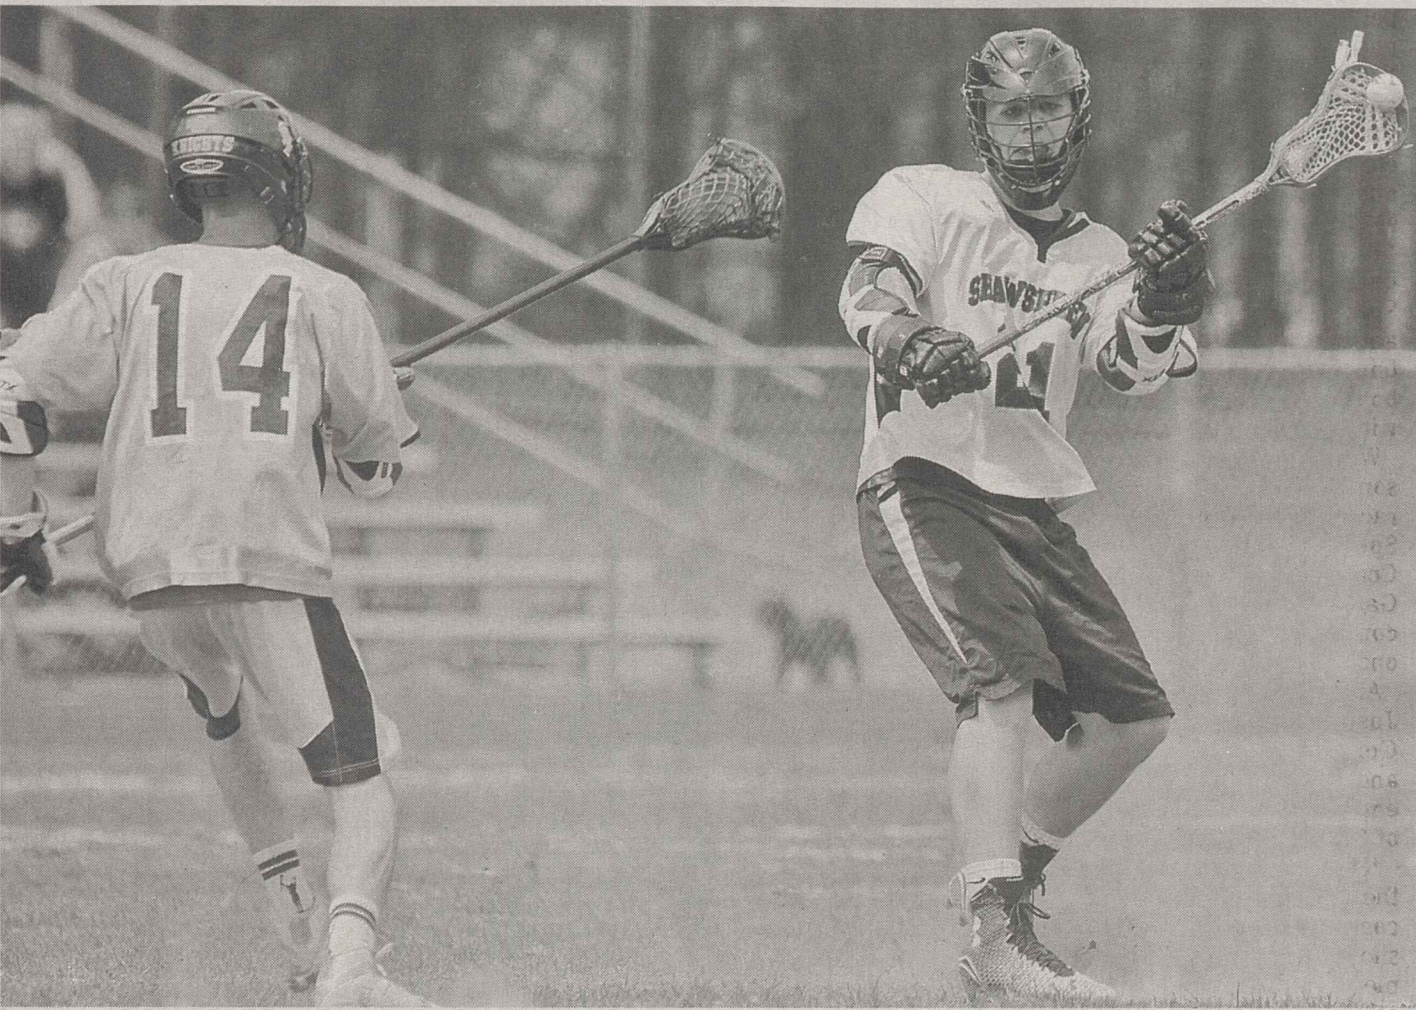

Senior Jack Peacock added two goals to the offensive output against Nashoba Tech, while sophomore Jake Nardone added a goal and an assist against Greater Lowell, giving him 21 goals on the season.

Junior attack Jack Stone of Tewksbury continues to lead the Rams in scoring with 46 goals and ten assists for 56 points.

While there has been plenty of offense for the Rams, they have also stepped up their play defensively, starting with senior goalie Kevin Vacca and extending out to the defenders in front of him.

"Kevin has been doing a great job for us. It is huge having confidence in your net minder," Baker said. "Chris Arkalis has been solid on defense as well as Jon Tower (Tewksbury). John Stokes has been doing a great job at long stick mid- dle, stepping up the physical play or at least what is left of it in the game."

Rams Baseball team earns CAC League Title

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

sports@yourtowncrier.com

The Shawsheen Tech Baseball team had a great season last year. The Rams finished 13-7 during the regular season, and shared the CAC Large title with Whittier and Greater Lowell with a 10-2 mark within league. No doubt, a great season by any measure, but the Rams wanted more this season, and they set about accomplishing more from the first pitch of the season.

On Friday afternoon at Shawsheen all of their hard work paid off, as they earned an 11-3 win over CAC Large rival Greater Lawrence to improve to 11-3 overall and 10-1 in the CAC Large, and in the process clinch their first outright league title since 2008.

Shawsheen coach Brian McCarthy, who has presided over two league champions in his three years as head coach of the Rams, says his team deserves all of the success they have enjoyed this season.

"This group of young men has worked so hard to get where they are right now and they deserve every bit of joy and excitement that comes along with that achievement," McCarthy said. "The group of players we had coming back this year knew the league was coming back with a lot of talent, including Greater Lawrence who won the title in the small and then moved up. They were proud of their achievement last year, but made it one of their goals to win the CAC League outright this year."

"And as I've been mentioning all year, this is a very focused, dedicated, hard-working bunch of guys, and they did everything in their power to make that goal a reality."

McCarthy knew going in that he had a talented group of players, but it was hard to predict just how good they would be given losses to graduation as well as the competition in the CAC. But once again, McCarthy says his players put in the work to make sure they would be successful regardless of the competition.

"Our league record is something we are very proud of. The CAC has always been a very good, competitive baseball league. Especially in the Large, there are no easy games," McCarthy said. "It is hard to say that from the beginning of the season as a coach or as a team, we had expectations for a certain record. But my expectations have always been to play your best ball every day."

"I try to instill in the kids that we just need to play Shawsheen Baseball, nothing more and nothing less. And that means giving your best effort on every game, every inning, and every pitch." The effort McCarthy was looking for was evident in their dominating win over Greater Lawrence as they got big offensive days from junior Brendan O'Flaherty of Wilmington and junior Andy Diranian, each of whom had two hits and two RBI, as well as senior Ryan Barnard, who was 2-for-4 with an RBI and a run scored.

"Our lineup has been fairly balanced this season. It seems like on any given day we can have someone one through nine step up and come up big for us," McCarthy said. "However, O'Flaherty, Diranian, (Tim) Lavoie and new comer, (sophomore) Craig Rich have been the big producers all year long. They continue to have solid game after solid game. And down the stretch now, Ryan Barnard has been hitting the ball real well for us out of the six spot."

The biggest star of the day, however, may have been junior pitcher Alex Tate of Tewksbury. The lefty ace tossed six strong innings for the Rams, allowing seven hits and no earned runs, while striking out seven batters and not allowing a walk.

It was the continuation of what has been a great season for Tate, who also quarterbacks the Rams football team in the fall.

"Alex continues to pitch great games for us. He is such a smart player, and a tremendously coachable young man. He continues to pound the strike-zone, keep hitters off-balance, and use the defense behind him to work efficiently," McCarthy said. "Greater Lawrence capitalized on two early errors to take an early 2-0 lead. But (Alex) just kept his cool, and kept us in the game until the bats woke up in the fourth inning."

The day before the Rams had set up their league clinching win with a 6-2 road win over Chelsea. Shawsheen got another strong pitching performance in this one, with junior Evan Boczenowski, going 5-1/3 innings, allowing just two hits and two runs, while striking out eight in his first start of the season.

"Evan did a good job on his first start of the season," McCarthy said. "He pounded the strike zone and induced a lot of outs using his solid defense behind him."

Junior Liam Dawson once again did a fine job out of the bullpen for the Rams, coming in with the bases loaded and one out in the sixth inning and getting out of the jam to preserve the Rams lead.

It has been a repetitive story line for the Rams this season, with Dawson time and again coming out of the pen to come through in clutch situations. Dawson is 2-0, with four saves on the season, and while McCarthy has been asked numerous times to comment on the reliever's dominance, he is more than happy to talk about him any day of the week.

"That is a question I don't mind answering again and again, because I can't say enough about Liam Dawson and the type of year he is having," McCarthy said. "I have never in my coaching career seen a high school reliever as solid and dependable as Liam Dawson. To be an effective reliever, you need to have nerves of steel. And Liam has that. No matter what situation he comes into, nothing seems to faze him. He just comes in, takes that ball, and gets the job done."

Youth Lacrosse team recaps

On a steamy Sunday, the Boys U15 White team took on a solid Chelmsford squad and came away with a 9-5 victory. However, the score wasn't indicative of the Wildcats level of play, as Chelmsford scored one goal on a three minute penalty and also had two other late strikes when that game was well in hand. The Wildcats posted a shutout in the first half of this contest.

The story of the game was defense for Wilmington, as Andrew Munsie had a solid game in net and came away with many saves. The defensive quartet of Pat McAndrew, Tyler Wood, Ryan Martin and Nate Frye kept Chelmsford's offense at bay for most of the contest and did a great job clearing the ball after changes in possession.

Harry Constantino made some key contributions at the end of the contest as well.

Offensively, the Wildcats were paced by midfielders Shane Ahlin with three goals and an assist and Dave Fraser who had two goals and an assist. Linemate Randall Vega was solid all day, as were fellow midfielders Joey Hill and Dylan Wargo, who paved the way for the Wilmington offense.

The attackmen of Vinnie De la Cruz, Mike Santini, JJ Thibert and Thomas Grecco provided reliable shots on net, and excellent pressure on the Lion's defense. Fellow attacks Jake Timmons and Connor Rooney scored one goal each and Alan Morris scored two goals, which were both assisted on stellar passes by Rooney.

U15 Boys Blue
Wilmington 8, Bedford 2

The Wilmington U15 Blue team defeated the Bedford U15 Blue team 8-2 on Sunday to improve their record to 4-1 on the season.

After a one goal loss to Peabody in their second game, the U15 Blue team has reeled off three straight wins. The team was paced by Zach Kincaid who had three goals and two assists on the day, recording his second hat trick in the last three games.

David Fraser also contributed two goals on the day while Adam Bishop, Danny McGaffigan and Ryan Martin each contributed a goal. Shane Ahlin also contributed two assists.

Defensively, the Wildcats were solid, giving up only two goals in the first half and shutting Bedford out in the second half. Both goals were in man-down situations.

The defense was led by goalie Aaron Soto and defensemen Kyle Kenyon, Frankie Irizarry, Josh Smith and Cam Kenyon.

The Wildcats went into the game a bit undermanned with three of their best players; Andrew Sullivan, Connor Benoit and Danny Woods all missing the game due to playing in the finals of a hockey tournament in Tewksbury (won by Wilmington, 7-1 over Billerica) but U15 White coach Bill Martin helped out and brought along three of his players, Ahlin, Martin and Fraser who played as a second midfield line and contributed greatly on the day.

Wilmington's other middle line consisted of U15 Blue team members Zach Kincaid, Adam Bishop and Jacob Fox who all made solid contributions offensively, defensively and in faceoff and ground ball situations.

Boys U15 Select
On Saturday, the U15 Boys Select team traveled to Swampscott/Nahant and came out on the short end of an 11-7 score. The boys let up several quick strikes to their opponents, but managed to climb back to a 5-5 score shortly after halftime.

However, they let up on defense and S/N capitalized, scoring most of their second half tallies right in front of the crease, leaving Wilmington goalie Jimmy Theriault helpless to stop them.

Wilmington did have most of the scoring chances throughout the match, but were unable to crack the solid goaltending of the Swampscott/Nahant netminder.

Leading the way with the scoring on Saturday were the Wildcat midfielders. Andrew Sullivan scored two goals and had one assist, and Joey Theriault had three goals and one assist.

Attackmen Zach Kincaid and Patrick MODOONO rounded out the scoring with one tally each. Midfielder Ryan Martin added an assist on Theriault's last goal to the Wildcat cause.

U15 Girls
The Wildcats put forth a great effort but fell to Chelmsford, 17-5. Scoring goals for Wilmington were Sam Burke, Kaitlin LeBlanc, Raegan Sweeney and Julia Hill. Megan Santry played an amazing game in net total saves were 23.

Molly Foley, Ashlyn Finn, Felicia Zuccola, Lexi Williams all played great moving the ball up the field. Emma Rhind, Kendra Prezioso, Cassidy Collins, and Julia Ryan all played hard moving through the game playing both offense and defense.

Solid defense played the whole game by Gianna Petrucci, Sophia Damico and Abby Perry.

U11 Girls
Another warm Sunday found the WYLA Girls U11 team heading to Billerica to face a strong and physical team.

Once again the Wilmington Girls teamwork paid off. Emerson Glover netted the first goal of the day and continued to have an outstanding game, mastering the scoop and go skill that keeps the game moving. Lindsey Kane played goalie the whole game and stopped some big shots for the win.

Defense was strong with Alexis Fox having a great game with Gillian Kane making some big defensive plays. The Midfield positions were dominated by non stop running and passing of Annabelle Cook, Jessica Collins, each adding a goal and several assists, with Anontonia DiZoglio, Morgan Glover and Hannah Bryson adding assists and ball control as well. Madison Benoit and Casey Ahlin had great games on defense and attack with Casey adding two goals and Madison having a steal and an assist on the day.

U9 Girls
The U9 girls team played a great game on Sunday afternoon vs. Billerica. At the U9 level, the girls play 7v7 plus goalies. With only eight girls from the team able to make the game, there were no substitutes, which meant each girl had to play the whole game. The girls held it together and played strong.

Starting in goal was Keira Warford. Keira showed great courage and made some terrific saves. Shae Gould played excellent as midfielder, showing her speed and endurance. She scored the first goal of the game, giving Wilmington the lead. Billerica quickly came back scoring a goal.

A few minutes after Billerica scored, Addy Holland carried the ball down the field looking to pass to an attack wing. Meredith Ebert quickly cut for the ball and picked up the pass. Sydney Crane was wide open and calling for the ball. Ebert quickly got the ball to Crane, who ran to score, resulting in a fantastic goal, making the game 2-1.

Billerica came back again, running the ball down the field looking to score. The whistle blew ending the first half as Billerica shot the ball into the goal, resulting in no goal.

Meredith Ebert started the second half in goal. She did a great job protecting the cage. Billerica came out strong in the second half, making their way down the field looking to score again. Brynne Ebert and Kaleigh Brennan played tough on both defense and offense and also did a great job marking their opponents.

Billerica's first goal of the second half was also called back, but not their second or third, leaving Billerica in the lead 3-2.

Wilmington never gave up, despite the heat and having no substitutes, they gave it their all and played their hearts out. Isabella Iascone ran fast all game and did a great job cutting for the ball. She scored Wilmington's third goal of the game, making the final score 3-3.

Wilmington's representatives in the Middlesex Big Diamond League (MBDL) Junior League All-Star Baseball Game played on Friday May 15th. From left includes: Ryan Collins (Braves) Gavin Kelsey and Sean Kelley (Cardinals) Mike Fiorenza (Astros) and Dean Nally (Giants), Manager Jay Kelley from the Cardinals. The MBDL league is a Junior & Senior league comprised of teams from Wilmington, North Reading, Woburn, Stoneham, and Lynnfield.

White Sox edge Twins, 5-4

Major League
White Sox 5, Twins 4

The White Sox defeated the Twins 5-4 in a well played game by both teams. AJ O'Brien led the White Sox out of the gate with a first inning two run home run, but Twins pitcher Pat McCarthy quieted the Sox bats in his next two innings.

Aidan McGrath pitched four strong innings for the White Sox giving up two runs with the Twins Tommy Coughlin and Vin Scalfani hitting back-to-back doubles in the fourth helping the Twins cause.

Joey Dynan pitched in relief for the Twins and threw two solid innings for the Twins with Aidan Elkins taking over relief pitcher duties in the fifth for the White Sox and pitching equally as well.

The Twins tied the score 4-4 in the top of the fifth sparked by a triple by Ryan Forcina, but the White Sox responded in the bottom of the fifth with a key leadoff single by Sean Riley who later scored the eventual winning run on a passed ball.

Stephen Smolinsky played an excellent defensive game at shortstop for the Twins and Jake Glinner played a great center field for the White Sox with a key catch in the fifth inning.

Farm League
Cardinals vs Braves

Ryan Muise and Cullen Walsh pitched a two inning, five strikeout performance for the Cardinals while Cam Kelley, Riley Morrell and William Trach were smashing ball around the field.

Defensively Erin McCarthy, Kyle Gabaree, Brennan Walsh, and J T Kilburn held the Braves off the bases with some fine fielding. Manny Gonzalez caught well behind the dish.

Braves fielders held their ground with Andrew Almada, Zach Mackiel, Casey Lanagan, Spencer Bagtaz, Kevin Pruslin, and Shivam Purohit among those contributing. Colin Allard and Dylan Alexander pitched well and Shane Tassone and Cam Jenks were among several Braves who contributed hits.

Longtime Reading institution honors Woburn man

Mission of Deeds names golf tournament in memory of Bill Mulrenan

By PAUL FEELY

A familiar charity golf event will return next month with a new name, though one that many in the Middlesex East readership area are likely familiar with.

When Tony Triglione founded Mission of Deeds in Reading in 1993, he turned to Bill Mulrenan of Woburn to become the charity's first volunteer. Bill personally serviced hundreds of clients and served as MOD President for a few years.

When Tony decided to start a golf tournament in this area, he again turned to Bill. Bill secured the generous support of the Woburn Golf and Ski Authority and was personally involved in almost every tournament.

Bill passed away last year, and now in recognition of Bill's support of Tony's vision, this year Mission of Deeds (MOD) is naming its 18th Annual Golf Tournament in honor of Bill. The Bill Mulrenan Memorial Golf Tournament for Mission of Deeds will be held Monday, June 1 at Woburn Country Club.

Bill passed away in May of last year. A lifelong Woburn resident and supporter, Bill Mulrenan was a dedicated servant to his hometown and to anyone that needed help.

Mission of Deeds, located on Chapin Avenue in Reading, provides basic home necessities, without charge, to those in need. Sixty Woburn households were among the thousands of families and individuals served throughout Middlesex and Essex counties in the past five years.

Upon hearing the news, Bill's son Michael Mulrenan tweeted, "Family of Bill Mulrenan are grateful & honored to have MOD golf tournament re named as The Bill Mulrenan Memorial. Great tribute."

Raised and educated in the South End of the city, Bill Mulrenan was a proud member of the Woburn High School Class of 1948. Several years

BILL MULRENAN of Woburn rides along with son Brian Mulrenan during a Mission of Deeds Golf Tournament. This year the Reading-based nonprofit has named its golf tournament in memory of the long time supporter.

after high school Bill enlisted in the United States Navy, serving his country proudly.

For several years he had served on the USS AJAX overseas. Upon his return, Bill secured a position at Atlantic Gelatin, where he remained for over 30 years, beginning as a production worker until he retired at age fifty-five having served as the Safety Supervisor of the entire plant.

Bill was actively involved throughout his lifetime in organizations that help people. Adults, children, teenagers, and families as a whole, if he could do something to make their lives more complete or manageable, Bill was the man who was there. He volunteered with many organizations and was one of the founders at The Mission of Deeds. It all began in his kitchen along with his wife Blanche working side by side with Bill, collecting items to assist those in need, and it grew from there.

Bill served as an on-call Firefighter for the Woburn Fire Department from 1958 through 1989, as Alderman in Ward four, on the boards of Woburn Housing Authority

Movie Reviews by Paul Feely

"Mad Max: Fury Road"

STRAP YOURSELF IN, AND ENJOY THE NEXT two hours of your life taking in "Mad Max: Fury Road." Max (Tom Hardy), dogged by dark visions from his past, has to wear a mask and hang upside down or get strapped to the front of a screaming war vehicle.

"MAD MAX: FURY ROAD"

Get to a theater - find one with the biggest screen and the hottest sound system - strap yourself in, and enjoy the next two hours of your life taking in "Mad Max: Fury Road." The film sets new standards in old-school stunt work and car chases and does it in an idea-driven story with a female action star in Charlize Theron.

The roaring and buzzing starts as a rumble of far-away thunder before the first shot. Max stands at the edge of a cliff, looking down at a fallen world left barren by war.

From that moment forward, there's nothing but action for the next hour. Max, (Tom Hardy) gets run down by the War Boys and becomes a slave of Immortan Joe (Hugh Keays-Byrne), a warlord who rules the Citadel, his desert kingdom, by controlling the supply of oil and water.

Max, dogged by dark visions from his past, has to wear a mask and hang upside down or get strapped to the front of a screaming war vehicle.

While that's going on, Imperator Furiosa (Theron) is taking off in a War Rig with cargo more precious than "guzzle-ine" - five young women enslaved as breeders by Immortan Joe. Her betrayal brings down the full wrath of everyone, including a semi that carries a bank of amps and a guitarist with a flame-spitting guitar suspended from a bungee chord.

The whole movie is insane. Miller has basically rewritten "The Road Warrior" - by far the best of the previous movies, - and updated it with 21st-century technology. There are beautifully colorized back-grounds but no green screens or motion capture. Miller created it all in the Namibian desert, fighting sandstorms and heat.

Because on "Fury Road," it all works together - the costumes, the sound, the lighting, the stunts - to create a sensory experience unlike anything in this era of lumbering blockbusters.

At its center is Theron, buzz-cut and eye-black, banging gears with one working arm and trying to get these fertile women to the Green Place. Max is the title character, but his role is to help the women get from one end of the desert to the other, same as Nux (Nicholas Hoult), a War Boy with a conscience. The danger in this world comes from men and any salvation will start with women.

"HOT PURSUIT"

As forgettable action-comedies go, "Hot Pursuit" is one of the more easily forgettable films in recent memory. The script is lazy, a series of clichés. The action is tedious. The jokes fall flat.

The only reason to see it is for its two likable stars, Reese Witherspoon and Sofia Vergara, whose charms bring a few smiles to the otherwise dull film.

Vergara transports her Gloria persona from "Modern Family" onto the big screen as Daniella Riva. Daniella is married to Filipe (Vincent Laresca), a top lieutenant in a drug cartel. Filipe is preparing to testify against his boss, Cortez (Joaquin Cosio), in a federal trial.

But bullets fly before Filipe can make it to court, and soon Daniella is on the run with the cop assigned to protect her. That would be Witherspoon's Cooper, a by-the-book police officer. Witherspoon and Vergara do what they can, but their characters never develop much in the way of chemistry.

"Hot Pursuit" also suffers from missing-scenes: there are obvious gaps, and some key plot points go unexplained.

But most audience members will be thankful these missing scenes helped cut down the running time, and the minutes lost watching this film.

Community Chorale 30th Anniversary Gala

On Sunday, June 14 the North Reading Community Chorale invites all to its 30th Anniversary Gala, celebrating 30 years of the "best of" the NRCC.

The show starts at 4 p.m. at the Union Congregational Church, 148 Haverhill Street in North Reading.

The Gala features masterworks from composers including Andrew Lloyd Webber, George and Ira Gershwin, Freddie Mercury, and many more.

This not-to-be-missed performance will also feature several raffles including a 4-pack of loge seats for the Bruins, a sumptuous post-show reception offering mock-tails, heavy hors d'oeuvres, and the famous strawberry shortcake - all for the low price of $20 per person.

For tickets call 508-954-4245 or 617-966-2626. See northreading-chorale.org for more details.

The date for this year's Lantern Walk is Memorial Day weekend, Sunday, May 25 at 7 p.m. at Horn Pond in Woburn near the Lake Avenue parking area.

Come celebrate the lives of loved ones, friends, classmates, family who have left this earth. Some lanterns will be available for a donation at the event. Suggested donation is $5 to $15, or bring your own. All donations go to Friends of Mary Cummings Park Trust.

Participants are welcome to walk, sit on a bench and watch the lights around the pond, or light a candle and be with the event in spirit.

LOBSTER LUNCHEON AND PLANT SALE MAY 23

On Saturday, May 23 the Stoneham Garden Club will hold its annual Plant Sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Lobster Roll Luncheon from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Plant Sale location is Stoneham Common, Central Street and the Luncheon will be held in the First Congregational Church Hall, next to the Common, starting at 11 a.m.

The luncheon will consist of either lobster salad or chicken salad rolls, beverages, and homemade desserts. A menu for children will also be available.

There will be a large variety of commercially grown plants from a local garden center, including geraniums, hanging pots, annuals, herbs, vegetables and perennials from members' gardens. Themed gift baskets created by members will also be available. Proceeds benefit club projects.

ELECTRONIC RECYCLING COLLECTION SATURDAY

The next appliance, freon bearing, CRT, and electronic device recycling collection will be held this Saturday, May 23 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Woburn's Spence Farm located at 41 Wyman Street.

For further information about this recycling program designed to save all money and benefit local organizations, please call Paul or Lori Medeiros at 781-938-0297 or visit www.tinyurl.com/spencefarm.

MULTI-FAMILY FLEA MARKET JUNE 6 IN BURLINGTON

A multi-family flea market will be held rain or shine on Saturday, June 6 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the lawn of the United Church of Christ Congregational at 6 Lexington Street in Burlington. In the event of rain, the sale will be held in the church hall.

Furniture, jewelry, toys, books, sporting goods, and other household items will be on sale. A percentage of all sales will go to the church.

In addition, the church's high school group will sell donated items to raise money for its upcoming service trip to Appalachia. The group will assist in the construction and repair of homes in this impoverished region.

For more information, call 781-272-4547 or www.uccburlington.org.

At Scottish Rite Museum

Lecture on impact of posters from First World War on June 6

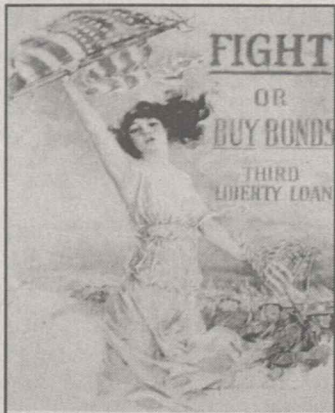

Elaine McCluskey Stomber of the Skillman Library at Lafayette College presents the lecture "The Art of Persuasion: Howard Chandler Christy's Posters from the First World War," Saturday, June 6 at 2 p.m. at the Scottish Rite Masonic Museum & Library.

Stomber will explore the impact of Howard Chandler Christy, American magazine and book illustrator, who created over forty recruitment, bond sale, and service organization posters for the U.S. Division of Pictorial Publicity during World War I.

His trademark Christy Girl became one of the most influential images of the U.S. government's propaganda campaign to bolster domestic support for the war.

This illustrated talk will demonstrate how the artist capitalized on stereotypical gender roles in his posters and adapted his idealized American beauty to inspire self-sacrifice on the home front and entice thousands of young men to enlist.

From 2014 to 2018, the world will mark the 100th anniversary of World War I.

The 2015 Linn Lecture series, "The U.S. Home Front during World War I: Duty, Sacrifice, and Obligation," reflects current scholarship on aspects of the World War I home front experience that relate, in surprising ways, to today's world. The Great War ushered in an age of momentous change, and its impact on American society was far-reaching.

The Scottish Rite Masonic Museum & Library is located at 33 Marrett Road in Lexington.

The Museum is open Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Admission is free. For further information contact the Museum at (781) 861-6559. www.monh.org

POWER LINES AND POSITIONS

Please check your local "Daily Times Chronicle" for daily updates.

LIGHT-BULB MOMENTS (STONEHAM)

"Stonehamites could be asked as early as next fall to ratify a multi-year contract with a new electricity provider for local residents and businesses," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"During the Annual Town Meeting, citizens sanctioned a proposal in which the Board of Selectmen will work with a third-party consultant to explore the possibility of purchasing power from a competitive supplier. "Article 16 passed with near unanimous support following virtually no debate at the assembly in Town Hall's auditorium A report back to the community could be ready for action as soon as October's Town Meeting.

"According to Selectman John DePinto, the warrant article does not give local officials the authority to ink an actual contract, as any such arrangement must ultimately be approved by Town Meeting.

"However, rather than negotiate the potential terms of such an agreement only to find staunch opposition amongst the electorate at a future meeting, town officials thought it best to gauge the community's initial reaction by pitching Article 16...

"A state law enacted in 1997, around the same time public utilities in the state were deregulated, authorizes town officials to negotiate contracts with suppliers on behalf of the municipality's citizens and businesses.

"If ultimately approved by Town Meeting, such a multi-year pact would not in anyway change customers' relationship with Eversource, which owns the infrastructure through which gas and electricity is distributed. Instead, the outside power generator would deliver the energy being provided to Eversource's power grid...."

-EXTREMELY EFFECTIVE' (WILMINGTON)

"The Annual Town Hall meeting ... went long (about 6 1/2 hours) with some not so surprising moments," notes the Wilmington "Town Crier."

"Kevin MacDonald, an opponent of most Town-related projects, was ordered out of the assembly by Moderator Rob Peterson early on, and it was no mistake Peterson was clearly in charge.

"Saturday was Peterson's first meeting in his newly elected position, but he was no less formidable as an extremely effective moderator. It was thought by some that Peterson's age (28) would serve as a component in making him a less experienced candidate than his older and more seasoned opponent, Attorney Leigh J. Martinson.

"If Saturday's meeting was any indication, Peterson's age is certainly not a factor...."

HIRE: EDUCATION (WOBURN AND BURLINGTON)

"Minuteman High School has a new principal," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Woburn's John 'Jack' Dillon III, who has been serving as the school's Interim Principal for the past four months and was the school's Assistant Principal for nine years before that, was selected by Dr. Edward A. Bouquillon, Minuteman's Superintendent-Director...

"I've wanted to be a principal since I was in high school," said Mr. Dillon. "As a goal-oriented person, it's something I've always focused on and I'm very happy it's finally become a reality."

"Minuteman is a great school and I'm very proud of the staff and students here," he said. "The next year will be very important for us as we try to promote a building project. It's a herculean effort and I'm committed to working with our superintendent and our communities to help make it happen..."

"Dillon has worked in education for 25 years. Before working at Minuteman, he served as Assistant Principal at Maynard High School and as a health teacher and acting Assistant Principal at Burlington High School..."

"Dillon lives in Woburn. He is married and has two sons, ages 8 and 10...."

"About the Towns" covers recent events in the 10-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper or look on line for up-to-date information about your city or town.

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA: What was the first team to win the Stanley Cup?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

SENIOR PETER LEIGHTON (WILMINGTON, MASS.)

and junior Nicky Rodrigo (Miami, Fla.) earned All-Conference Attack honors while sophomore Colby Connell (Warwick, R.I.) was a defensive selection and junior Jack O'Brien (Milton, Mass.) earned the specialist nod.

Leighton wrapped up his collegiate career leading the conference in assists (9) while ranking second in the conference in points (15) and seventh in goals (6).

•The Rivier Women's Lacrosse team fell against the visiting Regis College Pride by the score of 13-9 at Raider Field. With the loss, the Raiders close out their 2015 campaign with a 4-12 season record. As for the Pride, the win improves their season record to 8-5.

Although it was senior day at Raider Field, the Pride of Regis College spoiled the festivities with a victory over the Raiders. The game began with Regis scoring the first 3 goals. Rivier was able to get themselves on the board when Amanda Wickens (Tyngsboro, Mass.) was able to score off of a free-position shot at the 21:55 mark. Another goal by Regis gave the Pride a 4-1 lead. JANE FARELL (WILMINGTON, MASS.) was able to trim the Pride lead to just two goals when she was able to score off of a free-position shot at the 11:50 mark.

•Need some help with the trivia question? It wasn't the Ottawa Senators in 1927.

•Three UMass Lowell men earned All-New England status on the final day of competition at the NEICCCA New England Outdoor Track and Field Championships at the Henry G. Steinbrenner Stadium at MIT in Cambridge.

Seniors Robert Allen (Cranston, R.I.) and CAMERON MITCHELL (WAKEFIELD, MASS.) and junior Oluwatoni Onikeku (Fitchburg, Mass.) were honored as All-New England. The honor goes to the top eight finishers in each event.

Onikeku cleared the bar at the winning height of six feet, 10 1/4-inches in the high jump, but was awarded fourth place based on attempts.

"He's healthy, that's the key," said UMass Lowell Head Coach Gary Gardner. "He's always jumped well when he's healthy... it's not rocket science. He's got good ups."

Allen turned in a strong performance in the 1,500-meters in what was supposed to be a high quality workout in preparation for next week's 5,000-meters at the ECAC/IC4A Championships. Allen took third clocking in at three-minutes 48.14-seconds. The time was good, but what impressed the coach was the approach to the race exhibited by Allen.

"He's still cranking along, learning to race," said Gardner. "He's always been able to run, but what we've been working on is learning how to race."

Allen was sitting in seventh with 150-meters to go and closed strong to move into third and was closing in on the two leaders when he hit the finish line.

FRESHMAN PAUL HOGAN (BURLINGTON, MASS.) turned in a strong showing finishing 15th in a time of 3:53.24. Both Hogan and Allen will compete at the ECAC/IC4A Championships next week-end.

Mitchell earned All-New England status in both the 110 and 400-meter hurdles, but is probably a bit frustrated. He finished seventh in the 110-meter event, but had the best qualifying time and the lead in the 400-meter hurdles when he hit a hurdle, stumbled and ran into a second hurdle. He finished in eighth place.

•The Stonehill College women's track & field team turned in a runner-up finish at the Northeast-10 Conference Outdoor Championships, hosted by Southern Connecticut State University at Jess Dow Field.

Stonehill, which held a narrow lead after day one action yesterday, posted five more All-Conference performances, four program records, three event wins and an NCAA Championship provisional qualifying effort today, finishing with 178 points.

Stonehill dominated in the 800-meter run, compiling 25 points with a sweep of the top two spots and five of the top eight overall. Senior Sarah Wilson (West Suffield, Connecticut/Suffield) successfully defended her NE-10 Outdoor title in the 800, finishing first today with a time of 2:13.82. Sophomore Aisha McAdams (North Kingstown, Rhode Island/North Kingstown) earned All-Conference honors with her second place finish in 2:14.53, while senior ERIN RIELLY (BURLINGTON, MASSACHUSETTS/BURLINGTON) followed in fifth (2:18.27), freshman Paige Campbell (Lexington, Massachusetts/Lexington) took seventh (2:19.19) and senior Emily Anderson (Manchester, Connecticut/Manchester) wrapped up Stonehill's scoring in the event with her eighth place finish in 2:20.30.

Junior Molly Hellman (Rumson, New Jersey/Rumson-Fairhaven Regional) and SOPHOMORE ALEXANDRA BUNFILLIO (LYNNFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS/LYNNFIELD) finished ninth and tenth, respectively in the 800-meter run with times of 2:21.05 and 2:22.02. Freshmen Julie Schultz (Billerica, Massachusetts/Billerica) and Erin Colford (Epping, New Hampshire/St. Thomas Aquinas) also competed in the 800, placing 17th and 19th, respectively.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Much is made of the first team to win the Stanley Cup once the NHL assumed control of the Stanley Cup competition after 1926. That was the Ottawa Senators in 1927. However Lord Stanley's cup was first awarded in 1893 to the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association (AAA) hockey club, who were the champions of the Amateur Hockey Association of Canada for 1893.

and Golf and Ski Authority, worked the telethon for the Woburn High School Scholarship Fund, worked with St. Vincent DePaul, helped at Haley House Soup Kitchen, and served as a Eucharistic Minister at his lifetime parish of St. Charles. He also actively participated in Habitat for Humanity where he helped to build homes in the south for those less fortunate.

A very charismatic man, Bill always had a smile that was consistent and constantly visible. His tremendous faith he shared not just with his family, but also those in need, demonstrating the true meaning of his most favorite expression, "It's nice to be nice."

The typical profile of a Mission of Deeds client is a young mother with children, someone who has been homeless and possibly a battered woman who had to flee.

Clients typically first hear about Mission of Deeds through agencies that refer them. Every client has to have a referral, whether it be the Department of Children and Families, homeless shelters, the Red Cross, Department of Mental Health, churches and temples, school systems, town halls, or the housing authority. Mission of Deeds staffers and volunteers depend on agencies to screen clients, know their circumstances, and know that the need is genuine.

Volunteers range in age from 13 to 90, and do everything from picking up, organizing the warehouse, servicing clients, sorting goods, minor repairs, answering phones, helping with fund-raising.

In terms of donations, certain items are always on the needed list, especially twin-size bedding and pots and pans. Household furniture is accepted as long as it's in usable condition. Bureaus, coffee tables and end tables, sofas, and kitchen sets are always needed.

They do not accept sleep sofas or large entertainment centers, anything king-size, TVs, computers, or children's furniture.

All are invited to participate in the tourney as a sponsor or a golfer. Sponsorships start at $125 and are a great way to publicize your business and help those in need at the same time. Golfers may participate as foursomes or individuals. Be sure to register early though, last year's tournament sold out quickly!

If you can't attend the event, you can still support Mission of Deeds and have a chance to win! There will also be a 50/50 Golf Ball Drop. Mission of Deeds will sell numbered golf balls at $10.00 each. On the day of the tournament, we will drop the numbered golf balls from the sky onto a specified hole. The ball closest to the hole will share all golf ball proceeds 50/50 with Mission of Deeds. Last year's winner was presented with a check for over $2,000.

You can purchase tickets at Mission of Deeds, 6 Chapin Avenue, Reading, call 781-944-9797 or go to www.missionofdeeds.org to print out the registration forms.

Deviled Potato Salad

Yukon gold potatoes pair well with this traditional deviled egg filling, and the Hungarian paprika adds a colorful touch.

1) In 4-quart stockpot or Dutch oven, place potato chunks; add enough water to cover by 1 to 2 inches. Heat to boiling over high heat. Reduce heat to medium; cover and cook 20 to 25 minutes or until tender. Drain; cool 20 minutes.

2) Meanwhile, peel hard-cooked eggs; place in food processor. Add mayonnaise, mustard and paprika. Process with on/off pulses until smooth.

3) In large bowl, mix cooled potatoes and egg mixture until well coated. Add salt and pepper to taste. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Expert Tips

*This recipe is easy to double or triple for a big crowd.

*Be sure to cook the eggs ahead of time so that they are completely cooled when it's time to make the sauce.

*For a smokier potato salad, use smoked paprika instead of the sweet Hungarian paprika.

Ingredients

Prep Time: 15 minutes
Total Time: 60 minutes
Servings: 8

2 lb Yukon gold potatoes, cut into 1/2-inch chunks
2 eggs, hard-cooked
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon ground mustard
1/2 teaspoon sweet Hungarian paprika
Salt and pepper to taste

3rd Annual Library Park Blues Festival Saturday August 29th in Woburn

Woburn - The Blues for Veterans Association (BVA) is proud to announce that the 3rd Annual Library Park Blues Festival will be held on Saturday August 29, 2015 at Library Field, Harrison Ave in Woburn.

The Library Park Blues Festival Committee assembled recently and are planning their mission for another successful event. Mike Dever, BVA President said, "We're bringing people together with music to support our Veterans. The 2015 Festival will be from 1:00 PM to 8:00 PM. with posting of the Colors at 12:45 PM. The Gates will open at 12:30.

Admission: $20.00 per person. Free Admission for children under 12 yrs old who are accompanied by a paying adult. Active Duty Military with I.D. - No Entrance Fee.

"We have another a great line up this year!" explains Band Coordinator Bill Murray.

"Starting with our opening act, Slide-master, Charlie Keating and The Charlie Keating Band,

The Peacheters, 12:01

Blues Band, Michelle Willson and the "Evil Gal" Orchestra, Drivin'

Blind and our Headliner the New England Blues Summit featuring Darrell Nulisch and Matt Stubbs."

Irene Simas said, "We are so grateful to our Major Inaugural Sponsors for the Festival.

Edward Jones-Bill Sullivan, John and Kathy Flaherty, Lynch-Cantillon Funeral Home, and the Woburn Lions. They believed in our quest, lifted us up, and helped to make the Library Park Blues Festival an Annual Event. We are now looking for sponsors for the 2015 Festival."

Keeping in step are the Daily Times Chronicle and Green's Grill & Pub where Paul McGilvary graciously hosts The "Officers Club" (VIP Tent) each year.

"Sergeant Sponsors" to date are Callahan Transportation, Lawless Chrysler Jeep Dodge Ram, Winchester Cooperative Bank, Kiwanis Club of Woburn, Woburn Public Media Center, Kevin P. Mooney DDS. "Sergeant Sponsors" will have a Quarter Page Ad in the Library Park Blues News, and entrance into the "Officers Club".

Joining the ranks are Representative Jim Dwyer & Family, Richard L. Black Plumbing Inc., Jomar Distributors Inc., A.J.Black, Landscapexpress, Cousins, Lynch-Cantillon Funeral Home, Jane Gillespie and Melanson Development Group, Inc. Jennifer Murray, BVA Treasurer wants to remind folks that "The Blues for Veterans Association, is a non-profit, 501(c) 3 veterans' service organization and donors contributions are fully deductible as provided in IRC 107(c) 3 of the U.S. Tax Code."

The Hobo & Winnepesaukee scenic railroads prepare to open for the 2015 season

The Hobo and Winnepesaukee Scenic Railroad is advising the public that the rail line between Lincoln, NH and Tilton, NH is now active for the 2015 season. Various train operations will take place from now through late December, including excursion trains, special tourist trains and other equipment moves.

As a result, the railroad would like to remind the public that caution should be exercised at all times around moving trains and to always expect a train. Other safety considerations to keep in mind include grade crossing signals, which should always be obeyed. Drivers should stop when they hear whistle signals at grade crossings and never try to beat a train at a crossing or park on or near a railroad crossing.

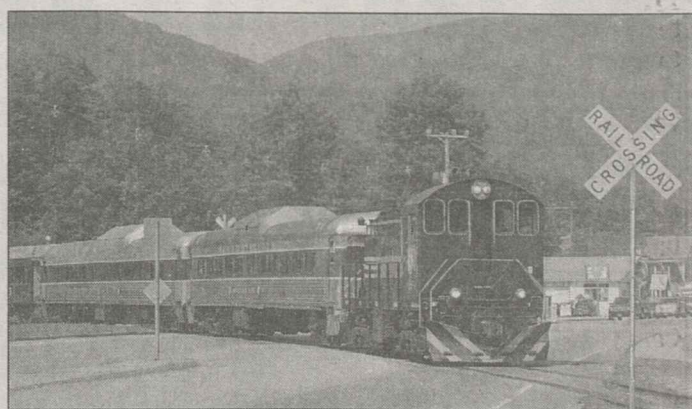

In an effort to promote the message of railroad safety, the Hobo and Winnepesaukee Scenic Railroads works closely with Operation Lifesaver, a nationally recognized non-profit organization that works diligently to improve railroad safety through engineering, education and enforcement.

"People need to be aware of the potential danger around moving rail equipment, even when rail cars and locomotives are moving at slow speeds," stated Benjamin Clark, Vice President of the Railroad. "Safety is always our first priority."

For the Hobo Railroad, scenic tourist excursion trains will depart from Hobo Junction in Lincoln, NH on weekends starting Saturday, May 23, 2015 before switching to daily operations on Thursday, June 25, 2015 for the summer and into the fall. The one hour and twenty minute round-trip excursions travel along the Pemigewasset River between Lincoln, North Woodstock and Woodstock, NH and cross several roadways and bridges along the way.

The Winnepesaukee Scenic Railroad, which is based in Meredith & Weirs Beach, NH, will also open for weekend operations on Saturday, May 23, 2015. Daily operations will get underway on Thursday, June 25, 2015 for one and two hour round-trip excursions along the western shore of Lake Winnepesaukee and Pausus Bay.

"People love to look at trains and we have a number of special events scheduled throughout the season where they can see and experience rail travel up close and personal in a safe manner," concluded Clark.

Both the Hobo Railroad in Lincoln, NH, and the Winnepesaukee Scenic Railroad in Meredith and Weirs Beach, NH offer a variety of special events and scenic excursions for the general public, school groups and bus tours from mid May through late October.

The Hobo Railroad is located in Lincoln, NH, just off Exit 32 on I-93, left on Route 112, directly across from McDonalds.

The Winnepesaukee Scenic Railroad is conveniently located at 154 Main Street in Meredith, NH with a satellite location on the Boardwalk at 211 Lakeside Avenue in Weirs Beach, NH. For more information including departure times, tickets and special events, visit www.HoboRR.com or call the main office at (603) 745-2135.

the uniquely angled kitchen, you can survey the great room as well as the patio and landscape beyond. It's a sweeping view. An eating bar fronts the sink, a walk-in pantry fills one corner, and counter space is expansive enough to accommodate a small team of cooks.

The owners' suite is well-isolated from secondary bedrooms, and has two large walk-in closets that buffer sound from the great room as well. Noteworthy luxuries in its private bathroom include: a spa tub, shower, two basins, and a separately enclosed toilet. Sliding glass doors in the roomy sleeping area offer yet another phenomenal rear view, and open onto a recessed, semi-secluded section of the patio. This would be an ideal spot for a hot tub.

The larger bedroom, on the opposite side of the Santa Fe's hexagon, has a similar view and patio access to the rear. This bedroom also has a private bathroom, while the other bedroom shares a bathroom with the rest of the household. Laundry appliances are just outside the bedroom doors, in a roomy pass-through utility room that links with the three-car garage.

Homebuilders From S-8 conditions and traffic by prospective buyers also fell. Builders' outlook for sales of single-family homes over the next six months edged higher.

"Consumers are exhibiting caution, and want to be on more stable financial footing before purchasing a home," said NAHB Chief Economist David Crowe.

Sales of new U.S. homes plummeted 11.4 percent in March, as the spring buying season opened with sharp declines in the Northeast and South, according to the Commerce Department. New-home sales slid to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 481,000, a swift reversal from an annual sales pace of 543,000 in February, which had been the strongest performance in seven years.

Even so, sales for the January-March period increased versus the same quarter last year.

Winter storms in January and February closed construction sites and likely pushed back potential sales this spring, traditionally the peak period for home sales, to later in the year.

Job gains over the past year have put homebuyers in a stronger financial position, which also points to stronger sales this year. And the average rate on a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage remains low by historic standards. Last week it stood at 3.85 percent. A year earlier, the rate was 4.20 percent.

Builders remain optimistic that sales will pick up. The NAHB's index of future sales expectations has been tracking upward all year.

The latest NAHB index was based on responses from 298 builders. Its measure of current sales conditions for single-family homes declined two points to 59, while a gauge of traffic by prospective buyers dipped one point to 39. Builders' outlook for sales over the next six months rose one point to 64.

Though new homes represent only a fraction of the housing market, they have an outsize impact on the economy. Each home built creates an average of three jobs for a year and generates about $90,000 in tax revenue, according to NAHB data.

Styles

The Santa Fe's name couldn't be more appropriate. This Pueblo-Spanish Revival home shows influences of both Spanish Colonial buildings and Native American pueblos. Stucco walls, stepped parapets, and exposed logs ends are characteristic of the style, which flourished in and around the town of Santa Fe, New Mexico, in the 1930s.

Inside, the home is bright, spacious, and totally contemporary. An abundance of natural light washes into the high-ceilinged hexagonal great room through double sets of wide windows on three sides. This room offers a panoramic view, as does the covered patio that spans the entire rear.

the U.S.

U.S. homebuilders are feeling slightly less confident about their sales prospects, a reflection of the sluggish start to this spring's home-selling season.

Even so, builders' overall sales outlook remains favorable.

The National Association of Home Builders/Wells Fargo builder sentiment index released Monday slipped to 54 this month, down two points from 56 in April.

Readings above 50 indicate more builders view sales conditions as good, rather than poor. The latest reading is up nine points from a year ago.
